Foreign Papers Confiscated At German Border

Wholesale Denial of Rumors of Clashes Issued at Berlin
Official Talks To Correspondents

BERLIN (CP-Havas)—All British and French newspapers were confiscated on arrival in Berlin today.

BERLIN (AP)—Alfred Ingemar Berndt, vice-chief of the German government's press department, today issued a wholesale, defiant denial concerning developments arising from Reichsfuehrer Hitler's drastic shakeup of the Reich's leadership February 4.

Addressing the foreign correspondents' corps on behalf of Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, minister of propaganda, and Dr. Otto Dietrich, the Nazi press chief, Berndt declared Polish-Jewish sources were responsible for reports which spread through Europe Thursday.

These included supposed garrison uprisings, impending further army changes, the alleged flight abroad of the former Crown Prince, street fights in Berlin and closing of Germany's frontiers.

He offered free air or rail transportation to anyone who cared to go to Allenstein, in East Prussia, to see for himself reported friction there between the army and the Schutz Stafel, Reichsfuehrer Hitler's elite guard, did not exist.

HITLER TO RETURN

Hitler, he said, would return to Berlin February 15 from his Berchtesgaden, Bavaria, retreat. A press communique later described the Fuehrer's health as "excellent."

Talk of Hitler having lost his voice, Berndt declared, was nonsense.

The only army officers who "fled" Germany, he said derisively, were five lieutenants who went skiing in Austria.

He said the border guards had not been increased. Automobile roads on the Belgian frontier, Berndt maintained, had been closed at the suggestion of the Belgian government because of negotiations still were pending concerning the passage of trucks. (Turn to Page 2, Col. 4)

Mobilization Bill In Japan Opposed

Powerful Forces Against Increased Militarism; Cabinet May Resign

TOKIO (CP-Havas)—The Japanese press Friday said Prince Fumimaro Konoye's cabinet will resign if the Diet rejects the national mobilization bill due to come before it for consideration next week.

Powerful opposition has developed against the measure which provides for the mobilization of all financial, industrial and human resources in case of "war" (not to be confused with the present "incident" in China, to which it would not apply).

REPORTS ABOUT RUSSIA

SHANGHAI (AP)—Reliable foreign sources said Friday Soviet Russia had refused a Chinese plea for large scale assistance in the war against Japan.

They asserted Sun Fo, son of the late Dr. Sun Yat-sen, had pleaded China's cause at Moscow, but that Russia had turned him down because of unwillingness to flit single-handed with the possibility of a Russian-Japanese clash through active aid to China. This report of Russia's stand came as Chinese fought to keep closing in on the central China corridor along the Lunghai Rail-

Rescues Woman In Smoke Room

Miss M. E. Moore, 1260 Fort Street, Is Saved By City Fireman

Miss M. E. Moore, 1260 Fort Street, was saved from probable suffocation by the prompt action of city fireman Karl Mills in a fire at her apartment shortly before midnight last night. Mills is the fireman who made the daring rescue of a woman from the cornice of the Hudson's Bay Company's building several years ago.

Miss Moore was asleep in her bedroom when a smouldering chesterfield took fire and filled the apartment with smoke. Mr. Mills was one of the first men into the apartment and carried her out before she was rendered unconscious by the smoke. When he arrived she was hanging on to the bed coughing.

The fire was first seen by a street car operator who was passing the house and noticed smoke issuing from the windows. He put in the alarm and the fire department arrived just as flames began to take hold of curtains.

The firemen, under Chief Alex. Munroe and Deputy Joe Raymond, subdued the flames before they had done further damage. The fire was believed started by a smouldering cigarette butt dropped in the chesterfield.

ADVERTISING IN PRESS PROVED

VANCOUVER (CP)—Newspaper advertising was described as "fundamentally the soundest form of advertising you can have" by Alderman Fred Crone, a member of the British Columbia Legislature. He was addressing the annual convention of the Canadian Storage and Transfer Men's Association here Thursday.

Alderman Crone told the meeting that businessmen, working on a limited budget, should use newspaper advertisements first. "People will never know you are in business unless you advertise. Ninety per cent of business is selling," he said.

Warships of U.S. in Pacific Manoeuvres

This striking picture, taken from the air, shows some of the battle ships and cruisers and an airplane carrier of the United States navy now engaged in defence exercises in the Pacific, which will extend till five weeks from now, with Alaska and Hawaii included in the moves. The vessels were at anchor inside the newly constructed Los Angeles Breakwater when the photo was taken.

California Gale Sets 50-year Length Record

WET SNOW TO CLEAR SOON

Meteorological Observatory Does Not Expect Fall to Amount to Much

The wet snow which was falling this morning is not expected to amount to much, according to information received from the Dominion Meteorological Observatory here.

The low pressure centring in the southwest part of the coast, which is blamed for the precipitation, is expected to move inland. The mercury had dropped slightly to 34 degrees at 11 this morning. There may be a light frost tonight.

Weather conditions at San Francisco were decidedly wet. In the last 12 hours 0.66 inches of rain had fallen. Temperatures are not unusual in other parts of the province. It was 10 below zero, at Prince George and 10 above at Kamloops. In the Yukon the mercury was hovering around 57 below zero.

Textile Plant at Cornwall Evacuated After Sit-down Move

CORNWALL, Ont. (CP)—Threat of Canada's first sit-down strike in the textile industry was removed at noon today when 650 employees marched from the Canada mill of Canadian Cottons Ltd. Three hours earlier the company had ordered the plant shut down, but the workers remained in the building.

Heads of the Cornwall local of the United Textile Workers of America, an affiliate of the Committee for Industrial Organization, refused to comment on the situation in the absence of Percy Laurin, president of the union local, and Arthur Laverty, president of the National Textile Council.

Reason for the shutdown order was not clear, but it was reported workers in the key department, the napping room, were dissatisfied with a wage "equalization" plan which became effective Thursday and with a change in the method of operation.

It was said napping-room employees quit work late Thursday, remaining in the plant, and that at 9 o'clock this morning the plant was shut down by order of company officials. When the plant would reopen could not be learned.

Rain and Snow Continue On 16th Day, With Eight Dead and Vast Damage

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Rain and snow deluged northern California today for the 16th consecutive day of storms which have caused eight deaths and millions of dollars' damage and shattered weather bureau records. It was the longest rainy period in the more than half century records have been kept here.

Recurring rains have brought a noticeable decrease in the number of people on the street and of shoppers, in theatres, and even school attendance.

Most of the deaths and virtually all of the damage, heaviest in agricultural areas, were caused by Wednesday's winds, which blew over California with the force of a hurricane.

The gale formed off the California coast, but most of the rains came originally from the Aleutian Islands in the north Pacific Ocean, birthplace of the majority of western America's storms. In the last 15 days storms have brought more than 11 inches of rain to Eureka, nearly nine inches to Redding, both in far northern California; and about five inches to San Francisco and Los Angeles. Madrid Centre Of Artillery Duel

MADRID (AP)—Government and insurgent artillery echoed around Madrid in a sudden renewal of hostilities early today, and shells fell within the capital itself.

Meanwhile, there were reports of new aerial bombardment of unfortified provincial cities by the insurgents. Five small towns were attacked Thursday, including Peniscola, Alcossebre and Benicassim—the last housing Canadian and other foreign troops recovering from the Teruel campaign.

NO NEW REICH ENVOY TO SOVIET

BERLIN (CP-Havas)—Count Friedrich von Der Schulenberg, German ambassador to the Soviet Union, will not return to Moscow and no new ambassador will be named for the present, it was officially announced today. The Moscow embassy will be left in the hands of a charge d'affaires.

Count von Der Schulenberg has been mentioned as ambassador to Japan to replace Herbert von Dirksen, recalled in the February shakeup.

Commons Ends Its First Debate

OTTAWA (CP)—The address debate in the Commons ended this afternoon after two Social Crediters, Robert Fair and C. E. Johnston, had spoken. The vote started at 4.15 p.m. In the first division the Bennett amendment was defeated 132 to 42. Then the vote was taken on the main government motion.

Dionnes in New Movie Soon

TORONTO (CP)—The Dionne quintuplets are to star in another full-length motion picture, their third, to be filmed at Callander, Ont., starting in May or June. John Patrick and Lou Breslow, film writers, said here today. They will leave for Callander tonight with Joseph Moskowitz, New York representative of their company, to see the girls.

Dr. F. P. Patterson's Death Is Mourned

Tributes From Pattullo, Bennett and Others to Late B.C. Conservative Leader

VANCOUVER (CP)—Dr. Frank Porter Patterson, who was largely responsible for the reorganization of the Conservative Party in British Columbia, is dead.

The Conservative leader, who also was one of Canada's most prominent bone surgeons, died in a hospital here Thursday night after two operations during the last week. He had been in ill health for some months, but his condition had not been considered critical.

Dr. Patterson was 61. He underwent an operation last Friday, and failed to rally. A second operation was performed Wednesday, when complications set in, but it was unsuccessful.

When the Conservative party was wiped out in the provincial general election of 1933, Dr. Patterson came into political prominence. He was elected president of the British Columbia Conservative Association and given "extraordinary" powers to manage affairs of the party until a provincial convention could be held and a leader appointed.

Under his leadership, the party concentrated on the 1935 Dominion election. It sent five members to the House of Commons out of British Columbia's total of 16.

Then, in the summer of 1936 Dr. Patterson was nominated as a candidate in Vancouver-Burrard in a provincial by-election. He was unsuccessful, finishing third to Liberal and Co-operative Commonwealth Federation candidates.

LATE DR. F. P. PATTERSON

Scotland-London In 48 Minutes

LONDON (CP-Havas)—A brief Air Ministry announcement today revealed Great Britain, in her pursuit of air security, has developed land planes capable of more than 400 miles an hour. Making what the ministry declared was "undoubtedly" the fastest flight ever, accomplished in a land plane, Squadron Leader John Woodburn Gillan of the Royal Air Force Thursday night flew the 327 miles from Turnhouse Airdrome, Edinburgh, to Northolt Airdrome, London, in 48 minutes, at an average speed of 408.75 miles an hour.

POWER EXPORT BILL IN HOUSE

Prime Minister Asks Permits Be Granted Only By Parliament

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister King this afternoon introduced his power export bill in the House of Commons. It provides that no further license for export of power may be granted except when authorized by an act of Parliament.

Mr. King said the bill would not affect licenses to export power now in effect, nor the government's power to renew or cancel such licenses. It would take away from the government the power to issue new licenses except in the case of some international emergency.

In describing how new licenses might be granted, Mr. King said it would be by "private bill."

Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, said private bill was hardly the correct term. Such a bill would be a "public bill."

Stanley Park Zoo Condemned

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Stanley Park zoo is termed a "disgrace" by Mrs. James Barr, newly-elected president of the Vancouver branch of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

"If the city must keep animals in captivity the very least they could do would be to furnish natural surroundings," she said Thursday.

JAPANESE ACE KILLED

SHANGHAI (AP)—Japanese disclosed today Lieut. Ryohai Ushioda, the navy's outstanding ace, was killed at Nanchang January 7 when his plane was shot down. He was credited with shooting down five Chinese planes in the encounter.

Lapointe Hears Prisoners' Plea

OTTAWA (CP)—Neil McLean of Edmonton, lawyer for G. E. Powell and J. H. Unwin, M.P.P., Alberta Social Credit workers who Thursday started terms in jail at Fort Saskatchewan for publishing defamatory libel, conferred today with Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, presumably on the subject of parole for his clients.

Northwest Aviation Planning Council Told of Canadian and World Conditions

VANCOUVER (CP)—Men who will transport anything from a loaf of bread to a 950-ton mining camp through the air got together here today and talked about their business.

Almost 100 delegates representing some of the world's principal commercial airlines and government aerial technicians gathered at the start of a two-day meeting of the Northwest Aviation Planning Council and devoted much of the first day to hearing addresses on flying conditions and problems in widely separated parts of the world. Flying conditions in northern Canada and Alaska were de-

EDMONTON (CP)—Immediate consideration of the request for remission of sentences imposed on G. E. Powell and J. H. Unwin, M.P.P., Social Credit leaders, was urged today in a telegram sent by Premier Aberhart of Alberta to Prime Minister King at Ottawa.

"Your attention is called to the fact that these judgments are upsetting the public peace and destroying the people's respect for our courts," said Premier Aberhart's telegram.

Mr. Powell, British adviser to the Alberta Social Credit Board, and Mr. Unwin, Social Credit member of the Alberta Legislature for Edmonton, Thursday started serving sentences on conviction of publishing defamatory libel.

Mr. Powell was sentenced to six months in jail and Mr. Unwin to three months in jail and their appeals were dismissed by the Alberta Court of Appeal last Monday.

Premier Aberhart's telegram to Prime Minister King followed one he had previously sent to Justice Minister Lapointe asking "full remission" of the sentences. Mr. Lapointe replied Wednesday night that he could not meet the request.

Text of Premier Aberhart's telegram to Prime Minister King, sent last night, was released today by the Alberta Premier. It read: "We have urged your Minister of Justice to recommend clemency in the Powell and Unwin cases. Much indignation is being expressed in various parts of the province against what our people regard as severe and unwarranted jail sentences."

"The Minister of Justice has replied, refusing any consideration of clemency. Such summary refusal to a serious government request is surely unusual."

SENTENCING OF Mr. Unwin, it was learned, has no effect on his status in the Alberta Legislature.

Mr. Unwin was government whip and at a caucus preceding the Legislature session which was opened Thursday, A. J. Hooke, member for Red Deer, was elected whip.

The session is expected to have terminated before Mr. Unwin's full term can be served, but if clemency should be granted, Mr. Unwin would be able to take his seat as previously.

ment could not be maintained unless some regulation of operations was established. "Up to the present," he said, "the government has not required any definite standards of service or maintenance, and this has made it difficult for those operators who are endeavoring to improve and to establish a business on a sound basis."

Throughout the Canadian north there were no ground aids to air navigation, Dickins said, although since the development of trans-Canada Air Lines the government had taken steps to establish a weather service "which should be of great value."

Air transportation had banished the word isolation from the vocabulary of people living and working in the north country.

PEACE EFFORTS

Mr. Gorton said the peace factor had entered into the deliberations of men who had investigated commercial flying in Great Britain during the war years.

"Surely if men could cross the world in a matter of days instead of weeks, or if letters could pass with the same rapidity, nations would come to understand better the problems and manners of those who hitherto had been ene-

Roumania Has No Parliament

Dictatorial Government Headed By Patriarch; Military Law Imposed

BUCHAREST (AP)—A new government with dictatorial powers governed Roumania today, commissioned by King Carol to restore confidence shaken by the six-week administration of the anti-Semitic Premier Octavian Goga.

Sixty-eight-year-old Dr. Miron Christea, Patriarch of the Roumanian Orthodox Church, is the new premier and he will rule without a parliament by decree until a new constitution is promulgated.

He acted quickly on taking the oath of fealty to the King by issuing four sweeping decrees which:

1. Named military garrison commandants of large cities as prefects of their districts.
2. Made national-wide a "state of siege" by which persons charged with serious crimes may be tried before military courts. (Bucharest and other large cities have been under such "siege" for a number of years.)
3. Postponed indefinitely the general election set for March.
4. Ordered higher officials of villages to call assemblies for the naming of mayors and two assistants to each mayor.

mies, and, with that understanding, would come peace," Mr. Gorton said in describing a committee which had investigated commercial aviation possibilities in 1917. Since then, he said, Australia had been brought within 10 days of London, Capetown within less than a week, and soon planes would be flying on schedule over the Atlantic.

Berndt said anyone who asserted Field Marshal Werner von Blomberg and Col. Gen. Werner von Fritsch had resigned—as War Minister and chief of staff, respectively—for reasons other than health were "incompetent."

When a British correspondent persisted, "but didn't the field marshal's marriage (to 28-year-old Erika Gruhn, a carpenter's daughter) have anything to do with the matter?" Berndt replied: "Marriage is a private matter and has nothing to do with the leadership of the army."

ARMY CHANGES DENIED

Berndt asserted emphatically: "Not a single change had been made in the army beyond those announced February 4, and not a single further change was contemplated. Why speak of disagreements between the army and the political leadership?" he asked. "Such a thing was simply unthinkable in Germany."

"The Germany army is unpolitical. Only this morning we read of big changes in the American army," he said. "We find these quite natural and we do not speculate on differences between the President and the general. (He referred evidently to Washington dispatches stating many United States army generals are due for retirement this year.)

"But when we make changes everybody abroad thinks they can pick on us."

ROUMANIA PROBLEM

Government officials who worked into the early hours of this morning because of the rumors were confronted also with problems surrounding the resignation of Premier Octavian Goga's pro-German cabinet in Roumania and the possible relations the new regime might have with the Reich. German-foreign office experts on Roumania affairs were summoned hastily from a ball for explanation and interpretation of the situation.

The rumor mongering of Thursday was the worst Berlin has witnessed since the blood purge of June 30, 1934.

PARTY ON FLOE LOSES SHELTER

Russians on Ice Off Greenland, With Tent Gone, Build Snow Hut

MOSCOW (AP)—Four Russian scientists adrift on an ice floe off the eastern coast of Greenland reported today an Arctic storm had wrecked the silk tent which had sheltered them while waiting for rescue.

The tent was ripped and the wireless mast which also had served as tent pole was blown down. Loaded sleds were overturned. The wireless mast, however, was set up in a new position and the campers built a snow hut in which to wait for relief.

The men had fresh meat—three polar bears they killed Tuesday when their small floe drifted within sight of the bleak, mountainous coast of Greenland.

I. T. Spirin, director of Soviet aerial plans to rescue the campers, said the land nearest the floe was tiny Trail Island, only 38 miles south of the camp on Thursday.

The principal rescue ship, the icebreaker Murmanets, meanwhile was rapidly overtaking the slower icebreaker Taimyr in the race to succor the four men. Spirin estimated the Taimyr was 190 miles from the floe.

Police Quell Toronto Fight

TORONTO (CP)—Police reserves were called out today to halt a free-for-all fight between two factions of a fur workers union outside the Tower Building in the heart of Toronto's needle industry district. About 60 persons were engaged in the fight.

After the wild melee had been quelled 10 men of one faction attacked six men of the other faction riding in a car. With a sledgehammer and clubs the 10 smashed the car's windows, cutting two of its occupants about the faces. The attackers fled.

Police said the first outbreak began when about 30 men from each side met outside the building and began arguing. Words led to blows and four policemen were called. They called reserves.

Dr. Patterson was elected for Dewdney, in the Fraser Valley farming district. The same constituency had previously sent two members to Victoria—Sir Richard McBride and John Oliver.

Dr. Patterson was one of the eight Conservatives successful in the 1937 election, when the Liberal government was returned with 31 members in the House total of 48.

During the session of the Legislature last fall, Dr. Patterson was leader of the opposition. Ill health caused his absence from the Legislative Chamber on several occasions.

BORN IN EAST

Born in Saint John County, New Brunswick, Dr. Patterson was educated there, in British Columbia, at McGill University, Montreal, and at European medical centres. He served in the Great War with the Canadian Army Medical Corps.

On his return to Vancouver he resumed private practice. He was appointed chief surgeon in the bone and joint departments of the Vancouver General Hospital, and in St. Paul's Hospital, where death came to him Thursday night. He was a fellow of the Royal College of Surgeons and of the Royal College of Surgeons of Canada.

Specializing in bone surgery, Dr. Patterson attended the Duke of Gloucester when the Duke broke his collarbone playing polo here some years ago.

SERVED UNIVERSITY

Dr. Patterson since September 16, 1932, had held a seat on the board of governors of the University of British Columbia, where he succeeded the late Magistrate H. C. Shaw.

AGAINST FUSION

In April, 1936, Dr. Patterson rejected a suggestion of a fusion of the older parties into a union government after the next election.

"I have no sympathy," he said, "with those who suggest panaceas for the government of our country, and particularly with those who suggest we should compromise with our principles in a non-party or nonpartisan government."

Surviving Dr. Patterson are the widow, a son, Frank, studying at McGill University, and two daughters, Mrs. George White and Dorothy, both in Vancouver.

at night at a speed of more than 300 miles an hour. It was made in a Hawker-Hurricane combat plane, a type developed for the R.A.F. The plane has a Rolls-Royce Merlin motor developing 1,050 horsepower.

The fastest previous mark recorded for a land plane was 379.17 miles an hour, made in a Messerschmitt racer at Augsburg, Germany, last November 11, in daylight, by Chief Pilot Wuerster of the Bavarian airplane works. The maximum speed record for sea planes, 440,681 miles an hour was set by Francesco Agello of Italy in October, 1934.

ON INSTRUMENTS

Gillan, 31 years of age, flew the entire trip by a newly-developed panel of instruments. Night had fallen when he left Edinburgh at 5:05 p.m. He flew at an altitude of 17,000 feet. A 50-miles-an-hour northwest wind was behind him.

The motor, according to the Air Ministry, was not put to the full test and the pilot could have pushed it further.

The flight, which showed the speed capacities of new Royal Air Force craft, came just after the Air Ministry had announced three planes of the same type had flown the same distance in formation at an average speed of 325 miles an hour.

The formation flight, the Air Ministry said, was not made in an attempt to break any record, but merely as a routine exercise.

Conservatives and Liberals joined in tribute today to the late

Dr. Frank Porter Patterson, whose career in political life as leader of the British Columbia Conservatives, though brief, had made him many friends.

Dr. Patterson's illness, which resulted fatally last night, dated back to the last session of the Legislature, the first he had attended. Because of his indisposition at that time he was not able to take as active a part in leading the Conservative group as he would have liked, and much of the work fell on the shoulders of his lieutenants, R. L. Maitland, K.C., Herbert Anson and Capt. Macgregor Macintosh.

Previous to the June 1 general election last year Dr. Patterson shouldered the enormous task of reforming Conservative ranks, so badly shattered in 1933, that they were left without a member in the House. Never resting, he toured the province day in and day out, week in and week out, a strain that no doubt took its toll in his health. A large part of the vote the party obtained in the election was attributed to his indefatigable energy. Then he stepped into the provincial arena for the first time as official Leader of the Opposition.

Dr. Patterson's death leaves a vacancy in the Legislature. He sat for Dewdney riding. Under the constitution a by-election must be held within six months which will fill the seat for the next session.

Tributes were paid to the late Conservative leader today as follows:

PREMIER T. D. PATULLO

"I am greatly shocked to learn of the death of Dr. Patterson, although I was aware that his health had not been good for some time."

"I had not known the doctor personally until the last session of the Legislature. There is no doubt that he took his political responsibility seriously, and I feel that in his then state of health this responsibility, as Leader of the Opposition, weighed heavily upon him."

"The doctor was eminent in his profession, and in the political sphere he was courteous in debate, hard working and conscientious."

"On behalf of the government, I extend most sincere sympathy to his bereaved family."

R. A. WOOTTON

Immediate past president of the British Columbia Conservative Association:

"The passing of our beloved chieftain only emphasizes again the fact that public duty exacts a terrible toll of those who are willing to serve in the councils of our country. It was the strain of new and heavy duties that proved too much for him, for whom we had such high expectations."

"None of us, I am sure, realized until now the sheer courage and determination Dr. Patterson must have called into play in order to carry on after his illness at the commencement of the last session."

"I was very privileged to be closely associated with him. I knew him, therefore, and the qualities we honor in men were his in abundance. He was the typification of a true citizen. We are proud to have had him for leader even for this all-too-short a time. British Columbia suffers a great loss in his passing."

"To Mrs. Patterson and the family we send our most sincere sympathy."

BRIGADIER J. S. BROWN

President of the Victoria Conservative Association. "This news of his sudden passing comes as a great personal shock to me, and the province has lost a man who had put his whole heart into the work on behalf of the people. His death will, I know, be mourned by all."

ROBERT D. HARVEY

President of the Victoria Conservative Association: "Dr. Patterson's death is a terrible shock to all Conservatives. Since his selection as leader of the Conservative party in British Columbia he had thrown himself heart and soul into the onerous duties of the leadership of a great party. He had rallied Conservatism in this province and had supplied to the party a leadership that which party needed at a time which may have seemed to the public that the affairs of the organization appeared to be at a low ebb. There is no doubt that the public life of British Columbia has suffered a great loss in his untimely death. At the same time it must be recognized that he had, as the leader of a great party, contributed much to the public interest of the province. His passing is a great personal loss to me, as in the last few years it had been my privilege to confer with him on many matters of public concern."

DR. LYLE TELFORD

In Vancouver, Dr. Lyle Telford, member of the Legislature for Vancouver East and leader of the British Columbia Co-operative Commonwealth Federation Party, said today in a prepared statement: "The sudden passing of Dr. Patterson was a great shock to me personally. I looked on him as a friend and as a man of great ability. His death will mean a great loss to the province. Whoever succeeds him will find that he set himself standards that were higher than is usually the case in men in public life."

BENNETT'S TRIBUTE

OTTAWA (CP)—Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, federal Conservative leader, today paid tribute to Dr.

Frank P. Patterson, British Columbia Conservative leader who died Thursday night in Vancouver, declaring he was "a real public servant and Canada is the poorer by his death."

"He had a wide circle of personal friends," he said, "and will be mourned by many people who have cause to remember him not only for his professional skill but for his generosity and never-failing kindness. He served with high distinction in the Great War. . . ."

"His unremitting toil on behalf of his party, while at the same time engaged in professional duties, was, to a large extent, responsible for his untimely death."

Canadians In Spain Rest After Battle

Mackenzie-Papineau Battalion With International Unit Now in Valencia Area

MADRID (AP)—Members of the Spanish government's International Brigade—including the Canadian Mackenzie-Papineau Battalion, weary after a month of the Teruel front—passed through Valencia this week and are now at a rest camp.

Details of the brigade's casualties were not made public, but it was known 525 replacements had been ordered from training camps to bring the unit to normal strength of 2,000, with which it went into action.

The brigade is composed of the Mackenzie-Papineau Battalion—which is said to have suffered its worst losses of the war at Teruel—the Washington and Lincoln Battalions from the United States and a British battalion.

About 300 Canadians and 700 Americans were in the trenches on New Year's eve and held their line in some of the bitterest fighting of the insurgents' second Teruel counter-offensive.

HEAVIEST FIGHTING

Brigade staff officers, all of whom were injured, said the Teruel fighting was more intense than any the unit had seen since it participated in the capture of Bechite last year.

From lumber camps, mines and schools, English-speaking and French-speaking Canadians trickled in to fight with the British and United States volunteers until they formed their own unit in September, 1937.

Command of the Mackenzie-Papineau Battalion recently passed to Capt. Cecil E. Smith of Toronto when Thompson became ill.

EAGLES' HEAD TO VISIT HERE

John W. Heller Jr. to Address Local Eagles Next Wednesday

JOHN W. HELLER JR.

One of the year's outstanding events at Victoria No. 12 Aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, will be the visit to be made next Wednesday by John W. Heller Jr. of York, Pa., international president of the fraternity, according to an announcement issued by officers of the local lodge today.

The speaker is making an official tour of the order's jurisdiction, which includes 1,187 lodges in the United States, Canada, Alaska, Hawaii and the Philippines. He is widely known as a convincing talker and, because of his practical experience, one thoroughly equipped to discuss "the order's social-welfare movements."

"From June 1, 1936, to June 1, 1937, 125,847 new members joined the F.O.E.," said Worthy President Percy Babcock today. "This was the greatest number of men ever to come into the fraternity in 12 months' time. Although we are a mutual benefit society, we feel that these men joined our ranks not only for the protection we give but because they wished to take part in our work for the good of our fellow men."

"Our activities in social welfare are now concentrated on the stabilization of employment. It is our belief that if the working man has a steady job at a saving wage and the honest investor has security for his investment, most of our economic troubles will be solved. Our theory is embodied in the Eagles' Ludlow bill which has been introduced in the U.S. Senate and in the House of Representatives."

In the first year of its operation the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge carried more than 9,000,000 vehicles with only 34 accidents.

Parliament Told It Has No Powers

W. F. Kuhl, Alberta, Argues in Commons B.N.A. Act Did Not Come Into Force

OTTAWA (CP)—Parliament was told by one of its own members Thursday night it might as well lock the doors and go out of business because it had no constitutional power to pass laws.

Walter F. Kuhl, Social Credit member for Jasper-Edson, Alberta, argued.

The Dominion of Canada did not exist, the British North America Act had never come into operation and that Parliament had no more power than a Sunday school convention.

Nobody seemed to be alarmed at his submissions which, if true, would throw 245 members of the House and 96 senators out of jobs which pay $4,000 a year. The Social Credit, a native of Spruce Grove, Alberta, who is a school teacher, admitted he was no lawyer, but delivered a long, technical argument on constitutional affairs, going back to the Quebec Conference of 1864. He submitted the British North America Act, under which Canada has been governed for 71 years, really had never come into operation because its preamble contained a few inaccuracies and discrepancies.

PETITION TO LONDON

It was submitted the B.N.A. Act was invalid because it stated the colonies of Canada, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick "have expressed their desire to be federally united in one Dominion," whereas, as a matter of history, they did nothing of the sort.

The provinces were not consulted about it, he claimed. In fact, a petition against the method of Confederation was sent to London by 31,000 Nova Scotians and never considered by the British Parliament.

Canada, Mr. Kuhl said, was not a confederation or a federal union, but a colony under the name of a Dominion. After the B.N.A. Act was passed, it ceased to have the powers of self-government.

As a means of getting around the difficulty, Mr. Kuhl suggested a constituent assembly to draft a new constitution and that

LOCOMOTIVE DERAILED
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Two landslides dumped mud and rocks on Southern Pacific tracks on the Shasta route yesterday, one derailing a passenger locomotive

Dr. Patterson

IT MAY BE THAT THE LATE DR. Frank Patterson was not entirely in his element as a political leader, or as a politician at all, but in the period in which he had begun to wield his influence over the destinies of the Conservative party in British Columbia he had revealed all the characteristics of a conscientious servant of the people. Not only did the news of his death yesterday come as a shock to those who knew him intimately, who, as adherents to the political faith which he had espoused with no small amount of sacrifice of time and whole-hearted application to the demands made upon him, but to those who had watched and admired the methods he employed to restore a party's fortunes which he found at a very low ebb indeed.

The task which had been bequeathed to Dr. Patterson, on the passing from the provincial scene to the federal field of the late Dr. Tolmie, he accepted perhaps with a premonition of the contrast it might present to the outstanding success he had fashioned for himself in the highly-skilled calling of his choice. When he met the Legislature of his adopted province for the first time only a few months ago, however, he impressed his political friends and opponents alike with his calm and courteous demeanor, his obvious intention to mark the beginning of his leadership as the chief of the official opposition party more by intensive study of the business of government rather than by the emulation of the sometimes spectacular demagoguery of those less learned in the ways of life—especially where public responsibility is involved.

We are by no means guilty of exaggeration when we say that Prime Minister Patullo and his colleagues in the Cabinet, even though in so short an official association with him, had an uncommonly high regard for Dr. Patterson, because they early detected in him the attributes of a worthy party foe, fair in thrust and parry, determined to the utmost of his ability to discharge the duties to which he had been called—and because the welfare of British Columbia was the incentive which persuaded him to place himself at the disposal of the people.

Defence and Humor

ONCE UPON A TIME, A YEAR OR SO before the Great War, the late Lord Northcliffe conceived the idea that the people of Great Britain ought to be told something about the espionage which Germany was continually conducting at strategic points of the British Isles. He commissioned the late Robert Blatchford—whose pen name was "Nunquam"—then editor of the Clarion, to write a series of articles on the subject.

The first article appeared, written in Blatchford's inimitable style, even though with tongue in cheek, and a breathless public was told that at the German Foreign Office in the Wilhelmstrasse in Berlin a complete record of street names, occupants of all houses and shops, manufacturing enterprises and the like, in East Anglia was immediately available to the Imperial German General Staff. As editor of the Daily News, Mr. A. G. Gardiner, whose facile pen still turns out "copy" in profusion for various British newspapers and several international syndicates, explained quite simply that all the details of all the towns and villages in East Anglia—the part of England specifically dealt with in the first, and final, Blatchford expose—could be obtained in local directories selling at any bookshop at sixpence apiece.

The "series" was limited to one article and the "laugh" subsided—a Northcliffe "standard bread" campaign diverting the attention of a somewhat sensation-loving public. However, those who were at that time somewhat concerned about the British espionage system—meaning the activities of the Secret Service—began asking questions about it in the House of Commons, but they lost their ardor when told by government spokesmen that such things really were not talked about in the open.

While all this has nothing to do with complaints from Mr. Bennett in the House of Commons that the defenses now being modernized on the Pacific Coast should not be discussed, except, presumably, in whispers, it serves to show how some people in the days before the world's physical, and mental, contraction had begun—before the radio literally tore the "lid" off practically everything as soon as there was anything to disclose—could be stirred up by something over which there was not the least need to worry.

We may as well make up our minds to the fact that if any power wants to know what is going on in the shores of this province, that it does not know already, it will be able to find out without difficulty or reference to the newspapers. However, our own Canadian Intelligence Department is ably served. It has its methods, too, of "telling the tale" when it is necessary—and of finding out all about what is not practically obvious to the trained mind in these matters.

Berlin Bans News

ALL BRITISH AND FRENCH NEWS-papers were confiscated when they arrived in Berlin today.

Action similar to this has been taken before. It will probably be taken again as long as the German people permit themselves to be dictated to and their lives fashioned on the Swastika pattern.

Banning newspapers from the two leading democracies of Europe, of course, is a confession of fear to which an intelligent German people is not blind. The question arises, therefore, how long will it be before either the ultra-reactionaries of the Hohen-zollern tribe can command sufficient support to challenge Nazi-ism effectively, or how long will it be before moderate forces can rejuvenate themselves in the face of all the drastic Hitler decrees and force an issue?

Unquestionably Hitlerism is on top for the time being. But the more force the Reichsfuehrer employs, the more determined will grow the regimented masses. They, too, will eventually recruit force—and the civil war will be on.

Lloyd George's Keen Mind

INTERVIEWED ON HIS 75TH BIRTHDAY in France recently, Mr. Lloyd George answered pointed questions about Fascism, Nazi-ism, and Communism. Asked for his special reaction to the struggle between Fascism and Communism, he said: "I see no difference whatsoever between these policies or creeds. The parrot-cry about saving the world from Communism by Messrs. Hitler and Mussolini leaves me cold."

"Fascism as extolled by Mussolini, Nazism as practiced by Hitler, and Bolshevism as exploited by Stalin reveal to me no fundamental differences. Liberty is just as remote in Germany as in Russia."

What about Mussolini? asked the wartime Premier's interviewer. Mr. Lloyd George replied: "Mussolini is, perhaps the skillfullest bluffer in Europe today. He has done it with the poorest cards. Real cards, however, are in the hands of the democratic powers, and when the right time comes they will make a clean sweep of the table."

One is almost tempted to say that, after a fairly lengthy rest from the more onerous obligations of public life, that dynamic personality of the pre-war and war years—affectionately referred to as "the wiry little Welshman"—in his mellowed outlook, could still show Britain how she might take the world's leadership toward real peace.

Speaking of Oracles

DEBUNKING HAS COME TO BE ONE OF the world's most popular pastimes. Great heroes are shown up as just ordinary folk with a touch of luck.

New archeologists of the British Museum have gone further. Digging deeply into the ruins of 2300 B.C. in Northern Syria, they have unearthed an elaborate private home not far from a palace. In the home they found an oracle. And in the oracle they found—a speaking tube.

It is not enough that we live in a modern mechanized, matter-of-fact world of actualities. We cannot even be allowed to believe in the delightful, fanciful, romantic mysteries of the past. Next, Mount Olympus, the home of the gods, will be revealed as having been just a hill with a picnic ground and a bandstand atop it.

Notes

Many American business men interested in a balanced budget fear that Mrs. Roosevelt's bobbed hair will be the only trimming done in the White House.

Two-headed snakes are by no means the exclusive property of fictionists and ineptures. Sober science knows about them, too—at least enough well-authenticated cases on record so that Dr. Bert Cunningham of Duke University has been able to write a book about them, just issued by the Duke University Press. Sometimes the two heads on one snake play amicably with each other, sometimes they get into desperate fights over a choice morsel of food.

TRAGIC LOSS OF YOUNG LIVES

From Toronto Star Weekly
Half a hundred lives, mostly young lives, were lost the other day in a college fire at St. Hyacinthe, Quebec. It was a tragedy that brought sorrow to sympathetic hearts everywhere.

At the same time there was another headline in the press: "Five hundred children die in rebel air raids." But Spain is so far away and St. Hyacinthe is so near that the 500 seemed hardly so many as our own lost 50. Nevertheless Canadians were deeply shocked; how cruelly unnecessary such slaughter; how terrible war is; how numerous its victims.

Yet right here children have for years been suffering and dying just as unnecessarily, not in their fifties or their hundreds at one time, but certainly in their hundreds over a comparatively short period. They have been victims of bovine tuberculosis, the type that is transmitted from the cow to the child through untreated milk. A simple process of heating and chilling the milk eliminates this disease. It eliminates it so thoroughly that in Toronto, where the process is compulsory, not one child has developed bovine tuberculosis in many years. Yet to hospitals here the little victims of this disease have continued to come—the children of other communities where preventive treatment of milk is not compulsory by law.

The treatment is called pasteurization. It eliminates typhoid fever, undulant fever, and other milk-borne diseases as well as bovine tuberculosis. The Ontario government will ask the Legislature to make pasteurization compulsory throughout the province, and no wonder. The wonder is that such action has been so long delayed.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

INTO LIFE

OUR OWN DR. CLEM DAVIES seems to be doing better over in Vancouver than he used to do here. He was pretty good here at times but he certainly never reached the peak he achieved in Vancouver the other day, as quoted in the columns to the left. What I liked best was his inside story of Edward's abdication. Not only was Edward drugged and hypnotized when he abandoned the throne, but the Jesuits in Rome had made a wax effigy of him and "encircled it with hypnosis and day after day they concentrated upon the figure until they had sublimated it into life."

This shows you how behind the times we are in Victoria. Over in Vancouver they have evidently known about such things for a long while, because nobody has denied or protested Dr. Davies' story. It is all taken as a matter of course over in Vancouver. This shows you what a mistake we made over to let Dr. Davies leave here. But he never rose to those heights here. He held out on us. He kept his best stuff for the ungrateful masses of Vancouver.

He has done for Vancouver what the Jesuits did for their wax effigy of Edward. He has concentrated upon it until he has sublimated Vancouver into life. What we have got to do somehow, what the Publicity Bureau must do if we are going to go ahead here, is to get Dr. Davies to concentrate on Victoria and sublimate it into life. Instead, Vancouver, as usual, has all the luck.

GAMBLE

BY FAR the most important world news, as this is written, is the report that Mussolini is massing troops on the Austrian border because he is afraid of a Nazi putsch in Austria; in other words, that he is getting cool toward Mr. Hitler and the Roman-Berlin Axis is cracking.

This is what the British government has been hoping for and praying for and eating humble pie for all these years—waiting for the dictatorships to crack up. If they do crack up, Mr. Baldwin, who initiated the policy of waiting, who was willing to look foolish twice a week to prevent an outbreak of war, will be hailed forever in history as one of England's greatest statesmen, the successor to that old Roman general who outwaited the Carthaginians until they straggled home, exhausted.

But if the dictatorships don't break up, if they precipitate a world war in close and strong alliance and beat the democracies, then history will probably say that Mr. Baldwin was a blundering old gentleman who should have stayed home and concentrated on his pured hog.

Neither judgment will be right, of course, Baldwin just gambled, as every other statesman has to do when the world is playing for high stakes, and whether he wins or loses will depend on his luck. But, if you're lucky, history crowns you as a genius. If you're unlucky, history brands you for a fool.

A LITTLE DENSE

WHEN IT comes to finance I am a little dense. It is a common affliction. Most people are very dense about finance, in any sum over $100, and I dare say most members of our House of Commons don't know within millions how much they spend in the budget a year. Indeed, stirred by this great thought, I am prepared to wager a small sum that not 10 members of the provincial Legislature could tell you off hand how much they are going to spend in the next fiscal year. (I do, because I have looked it up, along with a lot of other gruesome facts, which I shall spare you.)

Anyway, being dull at finance, I am unable to follow the calculations of many local authorities who expect the Rowell Commission to pour out a large share of gravy. As I understand the processes of finance—my understanding very limited, of course—the Dominion Government gets its money by collecting taxes. That, at least, has always been a theory of mine. And I have also heard our politicians shout from time to time, in moments of ecstasy, that the Dominion collects more taxes from British Columbia per capita than almost anywhere else.

Now then, carrying this great process of reasoning a little further, if the Dominion, as a result of the Rowell Commission, gives British Columbia a lot more money, where is it going to come from? Is it going to come from the prairies (where no one has a taxable income), from Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia? No, my poor friend and taxpayer. The new taxes imposed to provide money for us will be collected on the nation as a whole, and since we pay more than our per capita share, we shall provide our own gravy.

The money will be taken from British Columbia to the federal treasury and then sent out here again, and the only important result will be to employ a few more book-keepers and swell the revenues of the Post Office Department slightly.

More intriguing still, when the Dominion collects a dollar out here it will only send back about 50 cents. That is, unless it gives us something it doesn't give the other provinces, and I hardly think that likely.

So personally I look for no miracle from the Rowell Commission. As all governments need more money, I look only for more taxes. Charming thought, isn't it?

WOODEN COACHES

From London Express

Nine times out of ten the sad story of a rail smash is that the wooden coaches telescoped. The French disaster of June this year at Villeneuve St. Georges revealed that 27 out of 28 passengers killed were in the wooden coaches. The first comment of M. Chautemps, the French Premier, on visiting the wreckage was "Naturally—once more a wooden coach." As for the argument that says steel coaches jam their doors under impact and you cannot get at the passengers to release them, the answer is, "Would you rather be jammed alive in a steel coach or mangled to death in a wooden one?"

JUSTICE—THE B.C. WAY

To the Editor:—In the Times an extract from the Cowichan Leader criticized the mildness with which an intoxicated auto driver who collided with a bus, and who was referred to as a potential murderer, was treated by the magistrate, and the terrific harshness of the punishment meted out to a man convicted of the comparatively trivial offence of pitamping deer. The drunken driver was sentenced to seven days in jail. The man caught pitamping to a fine of $500, or 60 days' imprisonment. In the notice this was said to be the minimum penalty.

This writer could not credit it and thought probably through a mistake "minimum" had been printed for "maximum." But on looking up the law it was stated quite clearly that this was the minimum, with $1,000 fine or 90 days imprisonment as the maximum.

At first one is at a loss to understand how such monstrous penalties found a place in the act, but on second thoughts it becomes plain enough. Among the many who have settled in British Columbia from the Old Country a percentage belong to or are in sympathy with the landholding caste there, who consider they are the only ones privileged to kill game and regard a trespasser on what they look on as their private preserve as worse than the lowest criminal. True descendants of those country squires of 150 years ago who thought nothing of sending a poacher to seven years' transportation. And naturally in their eyes a pitamper and poacher are one and the same. To quote Kipling, they are—"Laying on a new land evil of an old."

For a number of years there was a section in the game act prohibiting pitamping, and the penalties for doing so were extra severe even then. But not until 1931 were they increased to the outrageous point they have now reached. It may be remembered that the Conservative Government of Dr. Tolmie was then in power, with the Hon. Harry Pooley attorney-general.

Everyone will admit that game should be preserved and the laws should be enforced, especially in the case of rare species liable to extinction: the Queen Charlotte caribou; for instance. But this does not apply to the little coast black tail. In the writer's opinion he is well able to hold his own; far more so than his feathered neighbor the blue grouse. And to make the killing of him, even by such decidedly unfair and unsportsmanlike means as pitamping—a crime, judging from the penalties inflicted, ranking with burglary or manslaughter—is contrary to the spirit of this western country. J. CARTMEL.

WOULD ABOLISH TAX SALES

To the Editor:—Our city fathers are getting under way to meet the Rowell Commission on taxation matters.

KEEP YOUR LIVER ACTIVE

And You'll Feel Wonderful—Never Headaches, Tired, Sick, Constipated

Your liver is the largest organ in your body and next to the heart the most important. It does four things. It supplies the body's natural laxative, gives proper nourishment to your blood, helps the kidneys and stomach, supplies the muscles, tissues and glands with energy. You can't feel well if your liver isn't well. System becomes poisoned and you feel "tired". "Fruit-A-Tives" quickly make your liver healthy. You soon feel like a new person. A celebrated doctor's formula—fruits and herbs—has given perfect health to thousands.

FRUIT-A-TIVES LIVER TABLETS

We learn that property owners' associations and others in the east are presenting briefs expressing their views on current problems of tax burdens. So, what about suggestions for Victoria?

Among other matters which I may suggest for consideration is that tax sales should be abolished. They are unknown in England. Under the English system if there is no occupancy, there is no taxation. It is the man who occupies the land who pays the taxes, but under our system it is the fortunate, or unfortunate person—and in so many cases the unfortunate—who owns the land. Our homes should not be the target for almost every levy exacted.

Another matter that should be taken up is for a substantial cut in real estate taxation by urging that the federal or provincial governments assume the cost of unemployment relief and social services, items which are properly a charge on community wealth, rather than on real estate alone. Reduced taxes in this way would lead to a revival of house building and in turn stimulate other industries and reduce unemployment.

GLAD TO KNOW

To the Editor:—I read good news in the papers about the governments of Norway, Sweden, Finland and Denmark refusing to recognize the conquest of Abyssinia. I am very glad to hear that those four nations, like Great Britain, are opposed to this conquest by Italy. Those four little nations of the north are doing fine. I surely do appreciate it.

TRIBUTE TO EX-CHIEF

To the Editor:—Many will have received with regret the announcement of the resignation, after 20 years of faithful service, of Chief Constable Allan Rankin of Saanich municipality. It is exactly 20 years since the writer, then a member of the Saanich Board of Police Commissioners, supported the application of Mr. Rankin for a position on the Saanich police force, an application which was granted unanimously. Ten years later he was promoted to the post of chief constable, in which capacity he has fulfilled his duties in a manner that has reflected highest credit not only on his ability, but on the intelligent and conscientious way in which he handled difficult situations, especially during the more trying stages of the depression period.

In the performance of his duties Mr. Rankin has at all times shown commendable judgment, while unfailing courtesy and total lack of ostentation have ever distinguished his attitude in all his relationships.

In relinquishing the position, he leaves behind an unblemished record of duties well done, and carries with him into retirement the goodwill and best wishes of all, including the writer, who gladly offers his humble tribute to one whose faithful service has earned for him universal respect and approbation.

UNCOVERS A NEW TAX

To the Editor:—There are too many apartment houses today; their construction should be stopped and discouraged for many years. The city will never sell its lots like this.

Cities in the Old Country are trying to get the people to spread out in few sub-divisions. Apartment building is not a healthy tendency. It leads to overcrowding, which is not needed here. These people may say we pay heavy taxes ourselves on this property, but I question very much if it is sufficient and equal to what those permanently residing there would have to pay on the whole in taxes, if each of these tenants were the owners of just a plain bungalow in the city.

These people enjoy the parks and every other thing the city has to offer with the rest of the people, and pay little or nothing for the privileges of doing so. It's only single men, chiefly permanently residing here, that pay the poll, or road tax; others come here to stay the winter or part of the year, and clear off again before paying anything.

Here is a part of the population that the tax collector needs to make direct contact with; otherwise city councils will always be floundering around in some financial jungle. A dormitory tax of so much a night on occupants of hotel and apartment houses is chiefly intended to help out the present taxpayers by enabling the city to collect a little from tourists and transients. It may work some little hardship on a few people permanently residing in such places to the tune of $12 a year, but indirectly they may benefit in other ways from this general collection.

FISH AND SPIES

To the Editor:—"Eat more fish!"—And help Japanese fishermen spies!" I suggest above as a slogan, for three old friends of mine; (1) Lt. Col. Charles Flick, of Mayne Island, who agrees with me, and sees no good reason to hate our hardy Japanese fishermen around these coasts. (2) A very old friend, our war-pal, the venerable Archdeacon F. G. Scott, who is worrying back in old Quebec about an excess number of Japanese "Intelligence Officers" in this furthest flung western outpost of the empire. And (3) Mr. Spencer Percival, of Port Washington, who says the Japanese not only "cut his boys out of an honest living" but even interfere with his own "pursuit of happiness."

I will add one more name, that of a politician, Captain Macintosh, M.P.P. He may not like this slogan—and isn't that just too bad!

About sixty years ago, at Sunday school, they taught me a motto—easy to say, but hard to do—"Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." Oh yes, Master. And who is "my neighbor?"

ALLEY OOP AS EVOLUTIONIST

To the Editor:—Many of the comic strips in the daily newspapers, are rather harmless. No one would begrudge the young folk some innocent diversion. But, when it comes to publishing "comic" strips intended to undermine our young people's faith in God and in His Word, then the comic becomes tragic.

Of these strips "Alley Oop" is a sad example. The artist first prepares the children's minds to believe in the existence of some impossible creatures, some so-called pre-historic monsters, then an article is written, apparently in all earnestness, introducing some ugly gorilla-men, as their (the children's) ancestors! Then follows the usual talk on that physical impossibility of man's existence, upon earth, for hundreds of thousands of years!

Who and what are they to believe? Their parents who taught them from the Bible that man was created in the image of God or the "comic" strip, the product of man's vain and incredible imagination? Both cannot be true? Some day, sooner or later, we shall all have to answer the searching question which shall decide of our eternal destiny: "What think ye of Christ?" Our responsibility toward children is very great indeed. The admonition God gives to all those in charge of children is: "Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old, he will not depart from it." We are accountable to God for the training given to those coming under our influence, and to train them in the fear of the Lord, is the best training of all!

L. J. ECKMAN.

FOR THE PEOPLE OR A SELECTED FEW?

To the Editor:—Perhaps we, the people, should be grateful to the board of governors of the University of British Columbia that they have forced the issue by raising tuition fees and limiting attendance for the next term. They must have anticipated a protest of the student body and so they have really called the bluff of the British Columbia government, which refused to do anything about the intolerable situation during the last session of the Legislature.

Where now already 80 per cent of the male and 60 per cent of the female students have to work their own way through the university, it should be plain enough to everybody that the majority of parents are in such financial straits that they cannot afford to pay for this advanced education for those of their boys and girls who are fit for such education and are therefore entitled to this chance for a better preparation for life, not only in their own interest, but in that of their country and the world in general.

If we look around us in the world, we surely can notice that those people, men and women, who are of the highest value to the world, to the peoples, through the high standard of their character, have not come in the first place from the privileged, pampered few, but from the masses, for whom the road to success was long and hard.

Let us, therefore, all stand behind the student-body in their efforts to have the original grant of $600,000 restored and accommodations at the university increased in such a way that there will be room for everybody eager to get this chance. I hope that somebody who is in a position to do so will take the initiative to organize a movement on Vancouver Island to help the student-body to achieve their purpose. We have to get our boys and girls ready to take over our task to make this world a better place to live in for everybody.

DUTIES COME FIRST

To the Editor:—From a letter dated April, 1893, written from Kumamoto, Japan, by Lafcadio Hearn, the great philosopher, to his friend, Ellwood Hendrick, I copy the following paragraph:

"We never in the west talk to people of their duties. Do orators make speeches about duties?... But what we do is to talk to them about their rights, always incessantly, ad nauseam, about their rights. Now to talk to people who know nothing of social science, of political economy, of ethical ideas in their relation to eternal truths—to talk to such people about their rights is like giving a newborn baby a razor to play with—or putting a loaded revolver in the hands of a mischievous child—or inviting a crowd of urchins to make a bonfire in the immediate vicinity of 10,000 barrels of gunpowder."

"HEBREWS" NOT JEWS

With reference to the article "Escape of the Jews 3,000 Years Ago" in the Times of February 5, a correspondent writes to say these people were Hebrews. "The Jews were the remnant" of the Tribe of Judah only," he says. "According to the logic of the author of this article, I, a Canadian, would call my grandfather, born in Ireland, a Canadian also. It does not make sense."

Store Employees At Their Annual Dinner

Beaver Club Elects Officers; A. J. Watson Thanks Employees For Loyalty

Members of the Beaver Club—local employees of the Hudson's Bay Company—met for their annual meeting last night, when they were the company's guests at dinner in the store's Victorian Restaurant.

Nearly 300 employees heard an inspiring address by A. J. Watson, local store manager, passed annual reports, elected a new board of directors and listened to an entertaining program of musical and special numbers.

Mr. Watson welcomed the employees on behalf of the company and expressed appreciation for their loyalty and co-operation during 1937. Last year, he said, had been one of progress and every employee had played his or her part.

The retiring president, C. Nicholls, in his annual report, traced activities of 1937. The welfare branch, he said, had taken care of 146 sick claims, amounting to $1,246, exclusive of special grants. The choir had won the Parfitt Cup. He thanked the officers and the company for extended vacations and shorter working hours.

R. S. Fletcher, secretary, also covered 1937 activities, and Harry Ward, chairman of the social committee, showed that the dances had been most successful; the annual picnic had been held at Elk Lake; a radio broadcast had been held to help the Christmas Hamper Fund.

Don Fish, chairman of the sports committee, told of the activities of the football club, the cricket team, which had won the Wednesday League championship; carpet bowling activities; golf, table tennis and fivepin bowling.

Miss Irene McAdams, treasurer, gave her report, which showed much good had been done during the year and reported a favorable bank balance.

Entertainment was provided by Nelson Hicks, who led community singing; the Original Hill-Billies; Reg. Stoffer who sang and whistled some of his own compositions; Jack Gamon, who did tap dances, and Harkness, the magician.

Mr. Watson congratulated the Beaver Club for all it had done in 1937. He said he would like to see more members take an interest in various sports, and he was sorry the choir had become inactive. He realized the enormous amount of work in this connection, but he had hoped to see the choir continue.

NEW OFFICERS
Officers elected for the coming year were as follows: George W. Allan, K.C., honorary president; P. A. Chester, F. F. Martin and A. J. Watson, honorary vice-presidents; F. V. Sellers, president; H. A. Henry, vice-president; L. J. D. Smith, secretary; Miss V. Ovensden, treasurer; Don Fish, chairman of sports committee; George Haddon, chairman of social committee; W. Henderson, Miss Peggy Silburn and Patrick Campbell.

In addition to the usual routine, eight directors will be appointed to fill the places of those whose terms of office have expired. Nominations consented to by the nominee and signed by the proposer and seconder, must be in the hands of the secretary before the meeting is called to order.

REPORT ISSUED ON ZEBALLOS

Government Publishes John S. Stevenson's Findings On Island Gold Area

The British Columbia Department of Mines today issued its first official report on the new Zeballos River goldfield on the west coast of Vancouver Island.

It is compiled by John S. Stevenson, engineer of the department, based on visits he made to the Zeballos area for two weeks last August and another visit in December.

Mr. Stevenson describes the general geology of the district, the type of vein structure and texture.

"The vein matter," he says, "consists of friable quartz and sulphides, the sulphides ranging from small amounts to almost 100 per cent of the veining in places. The sulphides include, listed in general order of abundance: Pyrite, sphalerite, arsenopyrite, galena, chalcocite and pyrrhotite, the latter occurring sparingly in the Privateer vein."

The chief gangue mineral is quartz; calcite in appreciable amounts is known from only the Van Island vein.

"Visible gold, though not constituting the major portion of the total amount of gold in the ore, is of rather common occurrence."

Large masses of hackly gold have been found in portions of the Privateer vein intimately associated with the sulphides; and beautiful specimens of crystalline gold have been found in the Goldfield vein; one such specimen consists of three elongated crystals of gold averaging 3/4-inch in length. However, it is the gold that occurs between and along the fractures in the various sulphide aggregates that contributes mostly to the value of the ore."

Mr. Stevenson's report then covers 10 properties in some detail: The Golden Gate group, Isle group (now Man o' War), Privateer group, White Star group, Golden Peak group, Goldfield group (A. B. Trites), North Star group, Lone Star, Extension group and Bodin group, and general comments about some of the other holdings.

A map of claim holdings is given in the report.

ELECTRIC RAZOR RADIO VILLAIN

WASHINGTON — An electric razor turned out to be the villain in Scouting Squadron Two's recent encounter with radio interference, a note by the U.S. Navy Department here reveals.

Assigned to the base radio station of the U.S.S. Lexington, squadron members found local interference cutting the efficiency of clear and rapid radio communication. A careful investigation revealed a power drill as the offender in cutting off practically all voice traffic.

That trouble isolated, members of the "trouble-shooting" gang were relaxing listening to the loud-speaker and expecting perfect reception, when all at once a terrific din from the loud-speaker drowned out all authorized sounds. A careful check revealed no power machinery operating, no nearby trucks as the offender; no one was using

But one persistent member kept up the search. He found the storeroom keeper in a nearby shop using his electric razor.

Wild tobacco plants as big as trees are among the botanic prizes sought by an expedition to South America, to aid in improving our crops.

Australian natives are reported in urgent need of a change in a dial telephone.

Surprised At Water Charge

Reeves of Oak Bay and Saanich Ask City For Revision

Surprise over the extent of the increase in water rates fixed by the city for supply to their municipalities, and regret over the fact no conference had been called prior to establishing the charges, were expressed by Oak Bay's Reeve R. R. Taylor and Saanich's chief magistrate, Wm. Crouch, as they asked reconsideration of the price schedule at a joint meeting with the city water board in the City Hall yesterday afternoon. Supported by the majority of their councillors as well as officials, the Oak Bay and Saanich leaders attended the session which they had requested, and were told by Mayor Andrew McGavin his water committee was prepared to discuss the rates with the municipalities individually. At the opening of the meeting, the mayor stated neither the members of the water board nor any other addressees were prepared to enter an argument on the rates at that session. In a statement following the meeting, he said: "As far as I'm concerned, the rates have been set. I see no reason why the city should supply Oak Bay and Saanich with water at a figure that does not take into consideration maintenance of the water system. The city must protect its investment." Reeve Taylor voiced surprise over the rate increase from 7.5 to 12.08 cents per 1,000 gallons for Oak Bay. He outlined the increased consumption of water by that municipality over the last 20 years, from $4,000 to $17,000 a year. As the city's largest customer, he said, Oak Bay felt entitled to consideration. At the higher price there would be a curtailment in the use of water. If Oak Bay were to pay more to the city, it would pass along the increase to the consumer. Domestic use of water would be reduced and gardens and golf clubs would dry up in the summer, destroying one of the attractions for tourists. He reminded the city that it had a monopoly for the sale of water, and drew the water board's attention to Victoria's attitude on monopolies of private concerns. The increase was not neighborly, Reeve Taylor added. "We feel you should reconsider this figure," he said, before citing clauses from the 1911 Water Act regarding supply and the fact that, at that time, both municipalities had agreed not to seek legislation on water matters without the consent of the other. Reeve Crouch declared his municipality in much the same position as Oak Bay. A rise in price would work a very great hardship on small fruit growers, he said. He also asked for reconsideration. THANKED DELEGATES

The mayor thanked the delegation for attending the meeting. The remarks of the spokesmen would be considered and if anything was decided by the city as the result of the conversations, they would be advised, he said. He thought the question of rates one for serious consideration by the engineers of the municipalities. Reeve Taylor asked for speed in reconsiderations, stating Oak Bay and Saanich were preparing yearly budgets and would appreciate a definite decision on the water rate. Oak Bay, he said, was prepared to put its engineer at the disposal of the city for consideration of the rate issue. Shatter-proof glass with an organic instead of silicate base is made in Germany.

Tourist Misses Home Comforts

Poor Beds and Broken Dishes Draw Complaint From Visitor
Canadians, especially those on Vancouver Island, know nothing about comforts in their summer hotels and private homes, says a Seattle woman who came to the island on holiday last summer. In a reply to a questionnaire sent out by Victoria she says that she found very poor beds, broken dishes and tin knives and forks in many summer hotels and camps on the island. In part her complaint follows: "I have heard so many Americans say the same thing—that Canadians do not know how to be comfortable at nights. Any old bunk suits them, or so it seems. "The only criticism I have of the Canadian resorts is that they don't know how to cater to the bed comforts of their guests, especially in the country and at small places." Other replies received at the Bureau say: "Would it be possible for Canadian cigar stores to carry an American 5-cent cigar that would retail in Canada for 5 cents?" "Would be glad to visit Victoria again, but find the ferry rates make the trip too expensive." "If you could preserve the quiet old English atmosphere everywhere you would do this coast an inestimable service." "The customs officials, especially the Americans, could be more gracious. I know they have a tough job, but they ought to remember that courtesy is becoming even to civil servants." "Courteous customs and immigration officials," "customs and police officers very cordial." "Hotel rates were excessive and the service in most cases very mediocre and frequently very poor."

"I liked the Scottish costumed girls to welcome the boat. It gave your city a very welcome atmosphere." "You have a wonderful scenic highway—why don't you make it flat on the top. We nearly fell out on the bumps and were sick on the curves."

The report of the sewing committee, read by Mrs. Kirkendall Jr., showed that 243 garments had been made for the children in the care of the Children's Aid, and part of this work had been done by the Y.W.C.A. groups and the C.G.I.T., whose co-operation was much appreciated. The sum of $300 was raised during the year by the auxiliary, and the Children's Aid Receiving Home had been improved with necessities such as new beds, bedding, etc. Christmas gifts had been given to the children, of whom there are between 70 and 80 in the care of the Children's Aid Society.

More "Debs" May Be Presented Daughters of B.C. Mark Birthday

LONDON (AP)—Opportunity for more debutantes to curtsy to King George and Queen Elizabeth appeared today when it was announced two "presentation parties" would be held this year in addition to four regular courts.

The "presentation parties" were scheduled for Buckingham Palace May 25 and July 12, with about 800 guests at each. The courts will be held May 11 and 12 and July 6 and 7.

The Lord Chamberlain said the unusual number of applications necessitated increased arrangements.

NEW BUSINESS TO OPEN HERE

Exclusive Corset Shop Will Receive Public Next Monday Morning

CATHERINE WILSON

Victoria will have a new shop devoted exclusively to the sale of scientifically designed corsets when Catherine Wilson's Corset Shop opens next Monday at 635 Yates Street, a few doors west of Douglas Street.

Mrs. Wilson, proprietor of the new business, has had many years' experience as a specialist for the T. Eaton Company Ltd. of Toronto. For 19 years she was in charge of buying for the corset department of that company.

Last June Mrs. Wilson resigned her position with the T. Eaton Company and, after a trip abroad, accepted a post with the Hudson's Bay Company here as a corset specialist. After two months with the local firm she decided to enter into business for herself and left for eastern Canada and American centres to assemble the necessary stock.

The new store will feature such well-known brands as "Nemo," "Gossard" and "Perfection" corsets, holding the exclusive rights for the sale of the last named in Victoria.

Final arrangements for a Valentine old-time dance and card party to be held in the Odd Fellows Hall, Douglas Street, on Tuesday evening, February 22, by Colfax Rebekah Lodge No. 1 were made at the regular business meeting on Tuesday night. Mrs. E. Baron is general convener, assisted by an able committee who are working hard to make this dance a real success.

Archives Of Women Is Formed

NEW YORK—A novel museum—the World Centre of Women's Archives—has been formally presented with its first exhibit, the records, charts and maps used by Amelia Earhart, the woman flier, on her last flight.

The founder of the Centre, Mrs. Beard, wife of the historian Charles Beard, said afterward: "If such provision had been made in ancient Greece, the entire complexion of written history would have been changed."

The sponsors of this new museum, who include Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt, Miss Frances Perkins, Secretary of Labor, and Mrs. Vincent Astor, believe that history today tells only half the story—"man's record"—and that with the "recent political re-submergence of women" and "reactionary trend in many European countries, there is danger that much of this valuable material regarding women may soon be lost or destroyed."

The skeleton of a Neanderthal cave man, found with a flint implement in his hand and a bison bone by his side, suggests that man had some idea of a future life over 50,000 years ago.

Poor Attendance Causes Ratepayers' Meeting to Adjourn

Due to the poor attendance last night the annual general meeting of the Victoria Ratepayers Association was adjourned to a date to be set by the chairman.

There were eight people in the Council Chamber when F. E. Winslow, member of the executive who was in the chair, called the meeting to order. Two other members came in later.

Mr. Winslow felt that a meeting once a month would awaken interest in the association. He expressed disappointment at the small gathering.

Arthur Hinder, secretary, said he had mailed 200 notices and advertised the meeting in both papers.

Major Cuthbert Holmes suggested that the small representation meant there could be nothing wrong with the way the city was being run.

SCOUT NEWS

FIRST CATHEDRAL SCOUTS
James Lawrie opened the weekly meeting of the First Cathedral Troop with a flag break. Inspection and instruction followed, with the morse code being taught the boys with both flags and buzzers.

A general discussion of the troop's activities for the following month was held by the patrol leaders.

Dennis Simmons was made librarian and will look after charts to be done by Richard Warner. The usual monthly card party will be held at the home of Mrs. McPhee, 320 Moss Street. More funds are needed and the committee is looking for a good turnout for the card party.

ST. MARY'S SCOUTS

The weekly meeting of St. Mary's Troop was opened Friday evening by Duty Patrol Leader Don McKenchie, with 30 scouts present. Following the opening and inspection, games of circle and channel tag were played. Then followed a short period in the patrol dens, during which time the patrols made plans for gathering equipment for games and made up designs for new staff racks.

After instruction in second-class and pathfinder badge subjects, a novelty game was played. At the conclusion of the game each patrol was given a length of rope for each member, and the ends of all ropes were "whipped." A court of honor of patrol leaders was held after the closing ceremonies.

Stevens Heads Ambulance Men

Work of Association Reviewed at Annual Meeting

G. H. Stevens, Commander of St. John, Victoria, was re-elected president of the British Columbia Council St. John Ambulance Association for his second term, at the annual meeting held last night at Government House. The whole of the 1937 slate of officers was returned with the only exceptions being three additions to the B. C. Council and one to the executive.

T. H. Kirk, Vancouver, is the vice-president, and H. W. Edmondson, Victoria, secretary-treasurer. The B. C. Council members follow: Victoria, Mrs. C. E. Wilson, O. St. J.; Mrs. W. C. E. Wilson, O. St. J.; Major J. A. Murray, Dr. T. W. A. Gray, Dr. C. Denton Holmes, Lieut. Col. C. Lennox Irving, Capt. H. Davenport; Vancouver, Miss Florence Perry, M.D.; Miss E. M. Southcott, S.S. St. John; Miss Isabel White, S.S. St. J.; Lieut. Col. H. L. Leeson, O. St. J.; Frank J. Burd, Mrs. Chamber, Dr. Roy Mustard, C. Wharton, C. G. Pennock, K. St. J.; A. T. Morrison, S.B. St. J.; Kimberley, N. W. Burdett.

The executive council consists of the following: G. H. Stevens, chairman; H. W. Edmondson, secretary-treasurer; Victoria, Mrs. C. E. Wilson, Mrs. W. C. E. Wilson, O. St. J.; Major J. A. Murray, Dr. T. W. A. Gray, Dr. C. Denton Holmes, Lieut. Col. C. Lennox Irving, Major J. A. Murray, Capt. H. Davenport; Vancouver, C. G. Pennock, A. T. Morrison, T. H. Kirk, Dr. Roy Mustard; Nanaimo, W. Fulton; Cumberland, Col. C. W. Villiers; Victoria, R. Genn, auditor.

His Honor Eric W. Hamber again accepted the position of patron of the council, while the honorary vice-presidents follow: Hon. Dr. G. M. Weir, Hon. F. M. MacPherson, Hon. G. S. Pearson, Hon. W. J. Asselstine, Mrs. Justice Sloan, Dr. W. D. Brydon-Jack, K. St. J.; C. G. Pennock, K. St. J.; W. G. Murrin and Major Austin C. Taylor.

GOVERNOR SPEAKS

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, who was admitted to the Order as Knight of Grace and invested with the insignia and robes of office during his Coronation visit, told the gathering that much dignity and solemnity prevails during an investiture to the Order by His Majesty the King, Sovereign head of the Order.

His Honor said there were 129 members present to receive various degrees from the King. All those on the promotion list moved into the Throne Room where the colorful ceremony was conducted in the presence of all the dignitaries of the order.

Those to be honored then advanced one at a time, to be greeted by the King and Queen. Each bowed, courteously and were then presented with their degrees by the King, who also shook hands with them.

His Honor afterwards attended various functions and displays in London in connection with the Jubilee celebrations of the St. John Ambulance Brigade.

In illustrating the splendid work the association is accomplishing, His Honor pointed out that approximately 7,000 St. John volunteers were on duty at the Coronation procession and were reported to have handled 10,000 cases of a varied nature.

ACTIVE YEAR

In submitting his annual report, G. H. Stevens, president, reported that due to the action of the Compensation Board early last year in making it compulsory for all industrial groups in the province to employ first aid men, the association had to throw its full force into the work of developing talent to handle the jobs.

He said 546 industrial first aid certificates were issued during the year, of which 320 were to applicants trained in Vancouver, the remainder being spread all over the province. Two hundred have already passed their examinations this year, the president noted.

Mr. Stevens said that applicants were not awarded certificates until the association was fully satisfied that they were able to undertake the jobs with full knowledge of first aid. He told of the expansion in the province in 1937, with new centres being established in Kimberley, Rossland and Sidney, and expressed the hope of having still more centres established before the end of this year.

The president said that plans were now going forward to hold a big B.C. meet under the auspices of the council this year. He made special mention of the ladies' team, representing the Vancouver central nursing division No. 18 in the jubilee celebrations in London last year.

Mrs. C. B. McAllister, life member from Vancouver, gave an interesting account of her observations during her visit to St. John Gates in London when attending the Coronation. She presented the council with a swagger stick, tipped with silver on which was inscribed the insignia of the order, a memento she received from St. John Gates.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served.

INDIA DURBAR IS POSTPONED

More Settled World Outlook Needed, Says King George

LONDON (CP)—The King has postponed his visit to India for the planned Coronation Durbar, partly because of unsettled world conditions.

The India Office in a statement Thursday night said:

"His Majesty reluctantly came to the conclusion it would be advisable to wait until the general world outlook became more settled and financial prospects more definite before committing himself to an engagement so long in advance."

The announcement explained the King felt "he would not be justified in imposing any additional burden on existing revenues in India at a time when calls on them in connection with the inauguration of provincial autonomy already are heavy."

Informing the Secretary of State for India of his decision, it added, the King again "repeated his strong desire to visit India and his intention of doing so as soon as circumstances permit."

The India Office statement made no mention of the possibility of Royal visits to the Dominions or other parts of the Empire.

Sunshine Inn Concert Given

Schubert Club and Geo. J. Dyke Orchestra in Joint Recital

Last evening at the Shrine Auditorium, a concert given by the Schubert Club and the George J. Dyke String Orchestra proved enjoyable to a large audience. It was given in aid of Sunshine Inn.

The string orchestra, under the direction of George J. Dyke, contributed the first half of the evening's entertainment. The orchestra played six numbers, some of which, like the English "Gressenhall Suite," were divided into various movements. After the quiet "Air," written by Purcell and played as the orchestra's theme, "Gressenhall Suite" was beautifully played. Here the splendid tone of the orchestra lent itself to the bright Norfolk tune, and especially in the third movement, simply styled, "Slow Air." This lovely melody, with its haunting sadness, was sensitively conducted and played. A melodic jig and finale brought the suite to a close.

The next four numbers included the Haydn "Serenade," with good pizzicato accompaniment and all the parts controlled. This was followed by the familiar and long-loved "Trauerlied." The Schubert "Moment Musical," brightly played, formed a good contrast. The last piece played by the orchestra was the "Serenade" written by Mozart. This number brought forth an outburst of applause from the audience, with the result that in response the Haydn "Serenade" was played.

The second part of the entertainment, carried by the Schubert Club, conducted by Frederic King, began with Markham Lee's "He That Loves a Rosy Cheek," and demonstrated once again that Mr. King's insistence upon good diction and a steady tone is still one of the outstanding qualities of this aggregation of ladies' voices. These same attributes shone in the joyous "Ring Out Wild Bells." Here the bell accompaniment, beautifully played by Grace Timp, was a chief feature of the performance. In the "Sands of Dee" some nice atmospheric bits were portrayed and once again clear diction painted the picture of "The Fountain" and told the story of Spivoss's interesting "Minor and Major." The feature number of the ladies' program was a musical setting of Tennyson's "The Lady of Shalott," the solo part carried by Janet Hay Swetnam in her high, clear voice. Here, although a little more gradation of light and shade might have been painted, the splendid words of the singers remained crystal-clear from the beginning to the close of the cantata.

The two soloists, Audrey Robinson, who sang "Down Here," and "I Know a Lovely Garden," and Winona Bennett, singing "Melisande in the Wood" and "Shut Your Little Drowsy Eyes," brought a few moments of change.

New Control Of Spending Plans

WINNIPEG (CP)—The Winnipeg city council's request for control over independent bodies, including the school and parks boards and police commission, was approved Thursday by the Manitoba Legislature in committee of the whole.

City control of school board spending was approved 21 to 7. By almost the same vote the committee deferred approval of the Winnipeg request the province assume whole cost of relief for persons who have become residents of Winnipeg since 1930.

RELIEF AND MOTORCARS

OTTAWA (CP)—At least 46 Ottawa people bought automobiles during the time they were on relief or drove their cars in the summer before turning in their license plates to make reapplication for assistance. It was said in a report of Ontario government inspectors presented to the Ottawa City Council Thursday.

Science Ethics Hope of World Cannot Be Handmaiden of Religion, Says Philosophi- cal President

(Copyright, 1937)

INDIANAPOLIS — Darwinian evolution was extended to include the action of human intelligence, and science was called upon to co-operate with education and religion to apply ethics to the solution of the world's current problems, in the retiring presidential address before the American Association for the Advancement of Science here delivered by Dr. Edwin Grant Conklin, professor emeritus of biology at Princeton, executive officer of the American Philosophical Society, and president of Science Service.

Terming "dull and fruitless" attempts to make science the handmaiden of religion, Dr. Conklin emphasized that science was vitally concerned with ethics, "the religion of science." The words expressing the ethics of the great scientists, among them Pavlov, Pasteur and Tyndall, were shown by Dr. Conklin to contain ideals of conduct and character similar to that taught by great religious leaders. Often the substitution of the word "Truth" for "God" will bring them into agreement.

MILITARISTS NOT JUSTIFIED

Militarists and dictators have no right to seize upon Darwin's principle of natural selection as justification of their philosophy that might makes right, Dr. Conklin warned.

"Darwin himself repudiated this extension of his principle to the struggle between races and nations of men," Dr. Conklin said. "Those who attempt to extend it into the field of intellectual, social and moral qualities should remember that the standards of fitness are wholly different in these fields. Physically the fittest is the most viable and most capable of leaving offspring; intellectually the fittest is the most rational; socially the fittest is the most ethical. To attempt to measure intellectual or social fitness by standards of physical fitness is hopelessly to confuse the whole question, for human evolution has progressed in these three distinct paths. Man owes his unique position in nature to this three-fold evolution, and although the factors of physical, intellectual and social progress are always balanced one against another, they are not mutually exclusive."

EVOLUTION FACTS

Intelligence has become a prime factor in evolution. Human selection, as practiced either by the hit or miss process of "trial and error" or the vastly more rapid and less wasteful method of remembered experience, is just as natural as the "natural" variety to which Darwin devoted most attention. We are continually improving on nature, as shown in agriculture, industry, medicine and education.

Dr. Conklin, urging this naturalness of intelligence, also upheld "free will," the freedom to choose between alternatives that are offered, without which there can be no responsibility, no duty, no ethics. But he emphasized that the will is not undetermined, uncaused, absolutely free, but is the result of the organization and experience of the organism, and in turn is a factor in determining behavior.

LAGGING BEHIND SCIENCE

Biologists do not have to go within the atom and espouse Heisenberg's principle of indeterminacy to explain free will. The fact that man can control to a certain extent his own acts as well as phenomena outside himself requires neither a little demon in the electron nor a big one in man.

Admitting that neither in human nature nor in social relations has progress kept pace with science, Dr. Conklin declared this the fault of man and society rather than science. Human nature lags behind scientific progress. How to remedy this? Dr. Conklin discards heredity and eugenics as too slow a process. Education, he concludes, based on a knowledge of the principles of development and aimed at the cultivation of better relations among all classes, races and nations, is the chief hope of social progress.

NOT EDUCATIONAL FACTOR

To the recent attack by Dr. Robert Maynard Hutchins, University of Chicago president, that science is a failure in the educational process, Dr. Conklin replied:

New Street Plans In the Royal City

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Plans for a $200,000 general street improvement program were being prepared here today by the city engineering department.

When the plans are approved by the city council, the project will be submitted to the ratepayers as a money-by-law, probably this spring.

The project will comprise most of the arterial streets in the city not yet permanently improved.

Says Trend To Bureaucracy

B. A. McKelvie Tells Women
Conservatives House
Rights Abrogated

Bruce A. McKelvie, addressing the Women's Conservative Association in the Conservative rooms Campbell Building last night, declared that recent legislation in British Columbia showed a distinct trend toward bureaucracy and infringement upon the principles of responsible government.

He instanced, particularly, the new Coal and Petroleum Products Control Board Act, which, he said, set up an autocratic board not responsible to the legislature. No minister was designated as responsible for administration of the act, he said, and the board was given Supreme Court powers.

Mr. McKelvie said the mines department, in one law, had been given law-making powers. Similar authority had been granted the Hairdressers' Association and under the new labor act, arbitration boards were given Supreme Court authority, bringing the court into derision.

The speaker cited various other acts in which powers were granted to boards or inspectors. In one of them, he asserted, it specified that an accused could be convicted on "proof by inference," a thing that would have been impossible a few years ago. This trend, he maintained, appeared to have sprung from the Special Powers Act of 1934, which was passed by the House, although never used because of public indignation.

Mrs. Sidney R. Bowden presided and thanked Mr. McKelvie. Other business included reading of reports by Mrs. J. Lismore of the house committee; Mrs. J. Witte, current events; Mrs. J. Roberts and Mrs. Bertha Waite, for the local council.

Ariel Singers To Perform Feb. 25

Eighteen months ago an organization was formed of young ladies who had passed through high school and who were still desirous of continuing their choral studies. The name chosen was The Ariel Singers. This group now numbers 30 singing members, and made rapid strides since its inception, winning The Colonist Shield and Elgar Cup for Ladies Choirs at last year's musical festival.

The Ariel Singers will be heard in their first public recital under the leadership of Frank Tupman, at the First Baptist Church on Friday, February 25. The recital is being sponsored by the First Baptist Choir.

Guards Are To Be Supervised

VANCOUVER (CP)—A by-law to regulate and supervise members of the several private night patrols which operate in Vancouver was under preparation today by the city legal department.

The measure will be dealt with officially after the return of Chief Constable W. W. Foster to Vancouver next week, Mayor George C. Miller announced.

IF YOUR EARS RING WITH HEAD NOISES

If you have ringing, buzzing noise in your ears, are getting hard of hearing and your catarrhal deafness, go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Permin (double strength), and add to it 1/4 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noise. Closed nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrhal deafness, or the ears "ring" or hearing or has head noises should give this prescription a trial.

CALLING ALL DOGS

By
ALBERT PAYSON FERRINE

Do dogs commit suicide?

Every year or so, some newspaper chronicles the suicide of a dog. The latest case of the sort that I have happened to read told of a boy killed by a car while he was walking with his dog. The dog was not hit by the machine. But he refused to leave the scene of the killing. After lying disconsolately on the roadside for several days, he walked out in front of a speeding car and permitted himself to be run over.

A reader wrote me last week of a family's pet dog which was so jealous at the arrival of a human baby in the home that it climbed deliberately to the apartment house roof, five stories above the street, and jumped to its death. Another reader tells me of a Boston terrier which refused all food, and starved to death when its young master died.

In my own youth a lonely foreigner living near Pompton had a crossbreed dog which was his only friend. The dog was caught killing a neighbor's chickens. His owner struck him. The dog walked out on the railroad track, head up and eyes steady, and stood there while an express train bore down on him and killed him.

The average dog is too sane and too normal to sink to the mad folly of suicide. But it seems there are exceptions. Do you readers know of any more of them?

Glasgow Music Festival June 16

Many Scots in Canada Will Take in Tour to Their Homeland This Year

Much interest throughout British Columbia and other parts of Canada is being directed toward the 28th annual Glasgow musical festival, which is particularly significant this year, inasmuch as the dates, June 16 to June 24, make it a part of the Empire exhibition which is being held in the great Scottish city during the summer.

That hundreds of Canadian Scots will visit Glasgow during the summer is evidenced by ambitious plans of Scottish societies throughout the Dominion for the Canadian Scots' reunion party which will sail from Montreal, July 8, in the Canadian Pacific liner Duchess of Richmond for Glasgow. So far as British Columbia is concerned, a Vancouver woman, Mrs. R. N. Murray, president of the Glasgow and District Society, is handling plans for the tour.

An attractive syllabus recently to hand from headquarters of the 28th Glasgow musical festival, indicates the extent and scope of the program. The adjudicators, incidentally, are widely known in Canada and elsewhere throughout the Empire. They are Sir Hugh Robertson, Arthur Benjamin and Maurice Jacobson, with Miss Ailie Cullen as official accompanist. Sir Hugh Robertson is chairman of the association.

The syllabus outlines conditions of entries, which close

April 30, for school choirs and orchestras, percussion bands, junior choirs, women's choirs, men's choirs, mixed voices, church choirs, vocal ensembles, vocal and instrumental ensembles, vocal solos and instrumental music.

In a foreword, the syllabus recalls that the Glasgow festival had its start in 1911, when choirs and solo competitors came from all parts of the country. Many entries from the Dominions, particularly Canada, are expected this year.

Pueblo Indians have six cardinal directions — east, west, north, south, above and below.

The Democracy of Print

Whether he is rich or poor, highly placed or humble, everyone seeks news.

The desire to know what is happening in the world is strong and instinctive; the need to satisfy this natural curiosity urgent and persistent.

Before newspapers were available, few enjoyed the privilege of regular dependable news of events, ideas or achievements . . . men, manners or markets . . . beyond the restricted boundaries of their own communities. The settlers journeyed weary miles to maintain the necessary contacts with affairs and friends. Roads were few and primitive. Travel was difficult. Mails were infrequent and means of communication slow. In winter the "snowshoe express" took weeks to travel from Montreal to Niagara. Foreign news was scarce.

Today all the news from far and near is brought to every Canadian, quickly and completely, by his daily newspaper. No matter what his interests or occupation may be, it serves his needs. Day after day it provides up-to-date information which influences his opinions, plans and purchases. There is no phase of community or national life it does not touch; the aspirations and accomplishments of the world at work, and at play, are recorded in picture and story on its pages.

Unfailing performance of this service to the individual has made the daily newspaper indispensable to more than two million Canadian families and a constructive force in every community.

Rangers-Toronto In Impressive Hockey Wins

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

VICTORIA hockey fans will remember Harry (Happy) Holmes, goalie for the Victoria Cougars when they won the Stanley Cup and the world professional championship. Holmes has discarded his goal stick for the pen and in a recent article selected an all-star, all-time team. Holmes writes as follows:

"Lester Patrick always has called Moose Johnson the greatest of all hockey players. They were running mates on defence for years—with the old Montreal Wanderers and Victoria Cougars.

"Moose Johnson would be a star of the first rank today, of course, but I have performed with, opposed, and watched defence men who were superior scorers.

"Many brilliant athletes are slighted when an 'All' team, particularly an all-time team, is selected in any branch of sports, but here is my idea of an all-time hockey array:

"Chuck Gardiner, goalie.
"Eddie Shore, right defence.
"Ching Johnson, left defence.
"Howie Morenz, centre.
"Bill Cook, right wing.

"An all-star is not an all-star to me unless he has stood up for 10 years or more. Joliat of the Montreal Canadiens is a big little man. Joliat weighs only 130 pounds, but he came into the National League in 1922 and is the player of longest one-team service in all the history of hockey. He is tricky and has a remarkable change of pace.

"Bill Cook, clean, strenuous, determined, and a powerful skater, was the backbone of the New York Rangers for 10 campaigns. Howie Morenz, who made headlines with the Canadiens, Chicago Black Hawks and Rangers, was the fastest skater of them all. Not a few considered Morenz the daddy of all hockey players. Morenz died a year ago... of a heart attack which followed an injury. Fully 50,000 persons filed by his flower-banked bier.

"Eddie Shore of the Boston Bruins was—and still is—the most formidable offensive defensive player in hockey. For years, he was right up among the leading scorers with 30 points or more. A good big man has the bulge on a good little man in any sport, including hockey. Nels Stewart, now with the New York Americans, is at his best at scoring goals. He weighs 200 pounds and can check the smaller fellows. But three years ago I heard him cussing Ching Johnson, long with the Rangers and now Stewart's teammate with the Americans.

"You can't do anything with Ching," moaned Stewart. Ching, bigger and more powerful than even Stewart, tied the latter up so that he couldn't move. Chuck Gardiner, who played with the Black Hawks, was a left-handed goalie who moved so that he was in front of practically every shot. A brain tumor caused his death at Winnipeg in the summer of 1934. He then was only 29 and at the peak of his game.

"The centre position has produced more great hockey players than any other, because that post offers the most opportunities for an athlete to shine. Other brilliant centres were Dick Irvin, now coach of the Toronto Maple Leafs; Duke Keats, who played with Edmonton; and Frank Nighbor, who coached Buffalo (Turn to Page 14, Col. 3)

Goalie Kerr Is Star As Former Shut Out Detroit

Marks Up Eighth Perfect Game 4 to 0; Leafs Victors 3 to 0 in Overtime

Canadiens Win

The chap who ran the wrong way for a touchdown had very little on Louis Trudel, who tossed away a hockey stick and a game all in one motion. If Louis doesn't go down in the records as one of hockey's best blunderers it will be only because his faux pas lacked a playoff setting.

It happened last night in Montreal when Chicago Black Hawks were playing Canadiens for two points that would have given Hawks something more than the finger-tip hold they now have on the National League's American division third spot.

Haynes, Canadian centre, was set to shoot on the Hawk goal early in the second period when Trudel threw his stick and the officials awarded Haynes a goal. That made it 2 to 0 for Habits, and the marker Hawks scored later failed to accomplish anything but make it close. But for Trudel's mistake Hawks might easily have earned a tie.

The stick tossing was the highlight of an evening that also included an unusual overtime scoring spurge by Toronto Maple Leafs when they defeated Montreal Maroons 3 to 0 at Toronto. Held scoreless for three periods, Leafs drove in all three goals in less than seven minutes of the extra time.

KERR OUTSTANDING

Trudel's blunder might have lost Hawks their half-game lead over Detroit Red Wings had not New York Rangers helped out by pasting a 4 to 0 shutout on the world champions at Detroit. It was the eighth perfect game of the season for netminder Dave Kerr of Rangers, league shutout king.

The rule that was employed in awarding Canadiens a goal provides that action when a player throws a stick in his own defence area. The same offence in any other area brings a major penalty. It has been used seldom in recent years, as players suppressed that urge to resort to the old corner lot trick of spoiling an opponent's shot.

Auriel Joliat played his 700th National League game and was presented with a bouquet of flowers before the start of the battle.

SCOTTISH TO PLAY SAILORS

Final Game in Senior B Rugby Schedule Tomorrow

While Victoria's reps bow their way out of the season's McKee Cup wars tomorrow in a little tussle with the mainland might at Brockton Point, the second half of the senior B rugby schedule will wind up here at Macdonald Park.

With victory needed to give them undisputed claim to divisional honors, the Navy ruggers will take on the Canadian Scottish fifteen in the final game on the slate. The league-leading Army bunch had their point advantage sliced to a slim margin last Saturday while the Scottish moved up to within one point of the sailors.

Victoria College and Oak Bay Wanderers, neck-and-neck in the intermediate race, will clash on the lower field at the James Bay enclosure while at the University School grounds the Mount Tolmie boys will be at home to the Canadian Scottish intermediates.

All games will start at 2:45. Line-ups follow:
Scottish Senior B—Hamilton, Knight, De Macedo, Williams, Hughes, B. Martin, Edmunds, Bray, Coomber, S. Martin, Holyoak, Beck, Hughes, Tuthill and Wallace.

Scottish Intermediates—Stedman, Jones, Bishop, Williams, Martin, Oddey, Hughes, Coste, Nagai, Saunders, Mair, Garrison, Wilson, Fricker and Claxton. Spares: Fraser, Sorinson and Howard.

Players are asked to be at the Armories by 2.

Outboard Group Seeks Members

A successful meeting of the Vancouver Island Outboard Association was held at the clubrooms, 1342 Pandora Avenue, Wednesday night. The association expects a good racing season this year not only with their local racing craft which are being improved but at other Pacific Northwest cities.

Due to a greater interest being shown towards motorboat racing a drive for new members in the club is being made. Any person interested in this sport and in becoming a member of the association is invited to attend the next meeting on March 9.

Bluebirds, Victoria West Park; referee, Sloan.
Exhibition games—Esquimalt Meat Market vs. Oak Bay Rovers, Central Park; James Island vs. Victoria Athletic Club, Hampton Road.

Kick-offs at 10:30.

Cup Football In Britain Tomorrow

English and Scottish Elevens Engage in Matches; League Fixtures

LONDON—Arsenal is touted as the ultimate winner as 16 teams prepare for the fifth round of the English Cup tomorrow. The Gunners are favored at 9 to 2, with Brentford second choice at 11 to 2 and Charlton Athletic and Sunderland at 10 to 1. Nine first division squads remain in the running along with six from the second league. York City, sole survivor from the third division by virtue of stirring victories over Coventry City and West Bromwich Albion, is given only an outside chance to win the trophy.

None of the competing clubs has actually decided on teams for the week-end, but the majority hope to be at full strength. After a trial, Brentford, league leader, has decided to drop Eastham and Wilson from the side to meet Manchester United at Griffin Park. Holiday will be brought in at inside right; Scott at inside left. The right wing position remains open. Brown replaces Wilson at left-back and McKenzie resumes at left-half. Manchester United has 13 players at Bushey, Hertfordshire, for a final sharpening-up, but the team will not be selected until the morning of the match.

BIG LONDON MATCH
For their match in London, Charlton Athletic and Aston Villa will field their strongest elevens, four doubtful Athletic players having been pronounced fit by the club's doctor.

With the return of Kirchen, Arsenal will be at full strength against Preston.

Manchester City, now playing at top form, will be without Bray against Luton Town, but the second leagueurs face a big task. York City expects a record crowd for its tussle with Middlesbrough, and accommodation has been extended to provide for 25,000 spectators.

Five first league matches are scheduled for the week-end, but only the Leeds United West Bromwich match has any bearing on the race for the leadership. If Leeds win the Yorkshiremen will move into third place in the table. During the week, Southend United transferred Chas. Turner, centre half, to West Ham United, and Jack Everest, left back, to Barnsley, for fees amounting to $4,000 ($20,000). Turner, Irish (Turn to Page 14, Col. 1)

CANADA NEXT GAMES VENUE

Dominion Awarded Fourth Empire Meet; May Step Down If Others Bid

SYDNEY—The British Empire Games Federation today awarded the 1942 games to Canada, and drafted proposals for clarification of the rules under which the games are held.

Fourth renewal of the Empire meet was scheduled for the Dominion where the classic originated eight years ago by the federation meeting in general assembly.

Conditional submission to the British Empire Games Federation of the Canadian Empire Games' Association application setting out its full proposals and assurances that the games would be conducted under guarantees and rules of the federation.

M. M. Robinson, Canadian team manager, replied that Canada was prepared to organize the games for 1942, but if any other Empire country which had not already staged the meet desired to do so, Canada would not object.

INCLUDE OTHER SPORTS

Getting into the games program changes, the meeting adopted an Australian proposal that boxing, wrestling, cycling, rowing, lawn bowling and swimming be officially considered on the standard games program.

In a far-reaching amplification of the rules, the delegates decided "that the ultimate organization of British Empire Games be vested in the federation's board. A meeting of the board shall be called at request signed by two member countries of the federation."

A proposal by Robinson that England and the Dominions should endeavor to send diving, wrestling and boxing judges to the games as component parts of their teams was agreed on by members. It was an outgrowth of Canadian criticism of judging in diving Wednesday, particularly in the women's events.

The meeting wound up after agreeing members of the British Empire Games Federation place on record their disapproval to participate in Olympic Games proposed to be held in any country at war.

Invading Players Enter Table Meet

Play in B.C. Table Tennis Tourney to Continue at the Crystal Garden

Seattle, Vancouver and Port Angeles paddlers will take the tables for the first time tonight in the British Columbia table tennis championships as the scene of the tournament shifts from the Westholme Hotel to the Crystal Garden.

Local players opened their bids for honors last night as 28 matches were run off in the first round. While there were no upsets, top-ranking netters were extended to the limit as they advanced through their initial matches.

CHAMPIONS WIN

Advancing steadily, Vic Tully and Bill Cotton, city and island champions respectively, scored victories over A. Elworthy and V. Henry. Earlier in the evening Henry upset matters a little when he took T. Chattell in a stiff five-set battle. Lou Poy, Chinese ace, flashed through two matches for wins over P. GreenSmith and H. Craven to move into the third round with Tully, Cotton and Renfrew.

Topsy Mackay, women's singles titleholder, smashed Mrs. Ross Hocking from the tables in straight sets, while Mrs. L. Greenwood defeated Mrs. M. Mackay in an overtime battle. The scores were 21-16, 21-14, 21-12 and 22-20.

The mixed doubles' play was featured by the victory of Miss M. Mackay and Bill Cotton over Mr. and Mrs. Greenwood. The

Shamrocks Play Dominoes Tonight

New York Shamrocks, New York professional cage squad, and the Dominoes, will battle at the High School gym tonight in the first of a two-game exhibition series. Starting at 8 the Canadian Scottish and Kingham-Gillespie Intermediate A teams will meet in the second game of the city series. The Scottish hold a one-game lead.

MERCHANTS LEAGUE

In tomorrow's match in the Merchants Football League, Mt. Tolmie will meet the Metropolitans at the Victoria High School grounds at 2 with P. J. Woodley as referee.

KERR MAKES GOOD BID

Gordon Kerr of Windsor, Ont., made a gallant bid for the 110-yard backstroke championship, but even his split second record time was not enough to stave off a thrashing spurt by Australia's Oliver.

Oliver broke the Empire backstroke mark he established in the first heat last Saturday by 1.7 seconds. His time today was 1:07.9 compared with the earlier mark of 1:09.6. Kerr was second in 1:09 and only other Canadian, Jean Marc Demers of Montreal, fourth.

England's brilliant swimming trio, Lorna Frampton, backstroke; Doris Storey, breaststroke; and Margery Hinton, freestyle, proved too speedy for the other Empire combinations. The English team finished 10 yards ahead of South Africa with Australia nosing out Canada for third place by a touch when Mary Baggeley of Vancouver just failed to overtake Evelyn de Lacy.

PEARCE WILL DEFEND TITLE

Pro Sculling Champion to Meet Select Field in Toronto Next Fall

NEW YORK—Jim Rice, veteran Canadian-born coach, today looked forward to what he considered would be "the outstanding event in the history of rowing." Present plans call for his star protegee, Bobby Pearce of Hamilton, Ont., to defend his world professional sculling title against a select field in Toronto next fall.

Born at Hanlan's Point, section of Toronto Island named after his first rowing tutor, the late Edward Hanlan, Rice said a group of Toronto sportsmen, whom he declined to name, had offered an additional $1,000 to the $5,000 purse if the three-mile record with one turn, was broken. The mark of 19.01 1/2 was set by Jake Guadalupe of Orillia, Ont., at Austin, Texas, in 1894.

Rice, coach of Detroit Boat Club, who coached Leanders Boat Club in Hamilton in 1933, figures Pearce, former Australian Olympic star, "the finest sculler who ever sat in a boat."

Hec Edmundson To Hold School

SEATTLE — Hec Edmundson, University of Washington coach, confirmed a press report from Vancouver, B.C., that he would conduct a two-week basketball, track and field school for the University of British Columbia this summer.

The Vancouver announcement said a small fee would be charged athletes attending the school, as no provision was made at the university for such a school.

Liverpool vs. Huddersfield Town.

Chesterfield vs. Tottenham Hotspurs.

SCOTTISH CUP—

GLASGOW — Twenty-six teams, fifteen representing the Scottish Football League's first division, eight from the second group and three minor league entries, will answer the roll for the second round of the cup tomorrow, Kilmarnock, a major league, enters the third round via the bye route.

Glasgow Celtic is setting a withering pace at the top of the league championship table and is a leading cup contender. Celts have been "hot" since mid-December, victorious in their last 10 league contests.

They play at home tomorrow and should have no trouble against Nithsdale, little-known squad that gained second-round status with a 1 to 0 verdict over Huntley in the opener. Celtic holds the trophy and is a favorite to repeat.

Perhaps the most interesting contest will be staged at Ibrox Park, Glasgow, where Rangers and Queen of South, great money teams, are billed. The Dumbfries eleven was pitted against the classy Light Blues in the initial round last year and created a stir by advancing into the second stanza with a brilliant 1 to 0 victory. Forecasters are wary in view of the 6 to 1 defeat inflicted on Rangers by Dundee in league play last Saturday.

Other Glasgow contests bring together Partick Thistle and Cowdenbeath and Queen's Park and Ayr United. The Thistles are given the nod over their second division opponent, while Queen's Park and Ayr, judging by league activities, start the game at scratch.

Defeated 2 to 1 by Celtic in the final last year, Aberdeen pounced on Elgin City in the opening round January 22, winning 6 to 1. The Dons play at home this week against St. Johnstone, strong Perth squad.

Raith Rovers, pacemakers of the second division with an almost certain chance of promotion to senior company, play at home against Edinburgh City, well known in the minor league standings. The City provided one of the surprises in the first round by defeating Hibernians on their own ground at Easter Road.

The second-round draw follows:

Aberdeen vs. St. Johnstone. St. Bernards vs. King's Park. Partick Thistle vs. Cowdenbeath.

Larbert Amateurs vs. Morton. Stenhousemuir vs. Motherwell. East Fife vs. Dundee United. Celtic vs. Nithsdale.

Raith Rovers vs. Edinburgh City.

Rangers vs. Queen of South. Queen's Park vs. Ayr United. Falkirk vs. St. Mirren. Hamilton Academicals vs. Forfar Athletic.

Ross County vs. Albion Rovers. Kilmarnock, bye.

MAT PROGRAM IS ANNOUNCED

Women Grapplers Will Appear on Card at Tillicum Gym Tomorrow Night

Women will return to the local house of wrestling to perform before the fans tomorrow night. Clara Mortenson, Seattle, has been booked to meet Mildred White, Texas, in a special attraction on the Tillicum gym program.

Five imported heavies and a local lad will appear in the other bouts on the card. They are: Rusty Westcott, Honolulu; Walter Siro, Vancouver; Gino Vagnone, Brooklyn; Ted Keys, Los Angeles; Leo Mortenson, Seattle, and Larry Beddington, Victoria.

Westcott and Siro have been given the top spot on the card and will grapple over eight ten-minute rounds. Vagnone and Keys will meet in the semi-main go of six 10-minute rounds, while Mortenson and Beddington are listed for the five-round special duel.

The show will open at 8.45.

Hockey Leaders

Gordon Drillon's assist in Toronto's victory against Montreal Maroons last night kept the young Leaf wingman six points ahead of the pack in the National Hockey League scoring race. His teammate Syl Apps scored a goal and moved into second place with 32 points, one more than Cecil Dillon of New York Rangers.

The leaders:

for years. Of those still performing, I must mention Marty Barry of the Detroit Red Wings; Frankie Boucher of the Rangers; Hooley Smith of the Bruins; and Nels Stewart.

"Charley Conacher and Paul Thompson were wings of the front rank. It is a pity to leave Sprague Cleghorn out of any all-star lineup. He played plenty of defence for the Canadiens, and was not afraid to mix it. Lester Patrick should be rated near the top as a defence man, with his brother Frank not far behind. They would have been super luminaries had they not been handicapped by the management of leagues, rinks and clubs."

"Herb Gardner of Calgary and the Canadiens was an excellent defence man, and so is the speedy Babe Siebert, a converted forward. Tiny Thompson of the Bruins is the game's foremost goalie at this time. George Halasworth, who worked with the Canadiens and Maple Leafs, was a pipkin. Roy Worters, who played with the Americans, was a small chap, but all goalie. Greats of the glittering game are many, but when they buckle me down, I've got to stick with Morenz, Joliat, Bill Cook, Shore, Ching Johnson and Gardiner."

Max Schmeling Ordered to U.S.

NEW YORK — Promoter Mike Jacobs yesterday cabled Max Schmeling ordering the German heavyweight challenger to come to the United States as soon as possible to begin light training for his championship fight against Joe Louis next June.

The Belmont United Young People's Society will hold a party tonight at the home of K. Berry, 1841 Chestnut Avenue.

Two appeals were granted by the zoning board of appeal yesterday. They were those of H. J. Enoch, who sought power to convert a dwelling at 306 Edward Street into an apartment with three stores and from Scott & Peden Limited, to remodel a dwelling at 1153 Pembroke Street. In the first instance the work must be completed within six months and in the second the time allotted is a year.

Mrs. Todd and her husband, who had eloped, were honeymooning in Washington and were in the audience at Ford's Theatre on the night of April 14, 1865, when John Wilkes Booth assassinated the President.

DOCTORS PAY HIGH TRIBUTE

Passing of Dr. F. Patterson Loss to Medical Profession in British Columbia

Through Dr. Gordon Kenning, president of the British Columbia Medical Association, doctors of the province today paid tribute to the late Dr. Frank Patterson.

Dr. Kenning, in his tribute, said: "The sudden loss of Dr. Frank Patterson from the ranks of the medical profession in British Columbia will be keenly felt by every practitioner in this province and by many elsewhere."

"Intimately known by all members of the profession in B.C., his sound judgment and brilliant surgical ability had won him the highest respect."

"Not only in the conduct of his private practice did he maintain the highest standards, but he carried his ideals into the field of organized medicine. Apart from all his other activities, Dr. Patterson's chief concern was the provision for every patient of the best that scientific medicine could offer."

"On behalf of the doctors of British Columbia may I extend to Mrs. Patterson and the family our deepest sympathy."

To Keep Peace After Assault

Sidney G. Westendale Must Post Bond of $500; Wife Beaten 20 Minutes

Sidney G. Westendale, who yesterday pleaded guilty to a charge of assaulting his wife and occasioning actual bodily harm, was bound over to keep the peace by the posting of a $500 bond by Magistrate Henry Hall in the City Police Court this morning.

The sentence followed a brief hearing yesterday in which Mrs. Westendale, with a badly blackened eye and severely cut lip, took the stand and testified that her husband had beat her for 20 minutes on the chestfield of her home.

She said she had been out and when she returned she found her estranged husband there with another man. After a brief argument, her husband took off his coat and beat her with his fists, she testified.

Constable Alex Briggs testified he had been called to the house and found Mrs. Westendale bleeding profusely about the mouth.

Magistrate Henry Hall said he felt that although the crime charged was punishable by a prison term and whippings, he felt it was more important that Westendale should keep the peace and particularly keep away from his wife and two children.

A default term of 30 days was set in case of failure to post the required surety.

CAMP MEN TO MEET HERE

Seek Camps as Permanent Work Schemes and Union Recognition

Delegates from men in government forestry and public works camps are scheduled to hold a conference here tomorrow. According to resolution forwarded to the provincial government the men plan to ask that the camps schemes be made permanent to provide work at standard wages and want the government to recognize their union. The government has already intimated it will not recognize a relief workers' union, claiming that the ordinary employer-employee relationship does not exist on the camp jobs.

The understanding at the Legislative Buildings today was that any men leaving camps without authority to attend the conference would not be re-admitted.

Government Makes City Fair Grant

A cheque for $4,532.50, representing the provincial government's grant to the city in aid of the fair buildings at the Wilhows, was received by city comptroller D. A. Macdonald today. With it was a letter from the Minister of Agriculture, Hon. K. C. Macdonald, explaining the purposes for which the payment is made.

The grant covers part of the carrying charges on the Industrial and Horse Show buildings.

OBITUARIES

ARTHUR PARBERY

The death occurred this morning at the Royal Jubilee Hospital of Arthur Parbery of 2221 Lydia Street, aged 77 years, a resident of Victoria for 50 years. Mr. Parbery was born in Norfolk, England. He was for some years superintendent of the sash and door factory of the former Sayward Mills, remaining with the concern until it sold out to the Canadian Puget Sound Co. when he went to Edmonton for several years. After his return he engaged in business as a contractor and builder until his retirement. He is survived by one son, Dr. Reginald C. Parbery of Victoria; one daughter, Zola, in San Francisco; one brother, Edgar, in Sydney, Australia, and five grandchildren. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

ALFRED LEWIS GREEN

At the Royal Jubilee Hospital yesterday afternoon the death occurred of Alfred Lewis Green, aged 67 years, of 135 Bushby Street. Mr. Green was born in England and had been a resident of this city for 31 years. He is mourned by his widow, two daughters, Violet, at home, and Mrs. Elgin Hayward of Vancouver, and four sons, Alfred L. Richard T., Robert W. and Arthur E., all of this city, and four grandchildren; a brother, John, in Hamilton, Ontario, and a brother and sister in England; an uncle, Robert Green of Malahat, and a niece, Mrs. A. W. Hornsby, of this city. He was a member of Court Northern Light, A.O.F. The funeral will take place on Monday afternoon from McCall Brothers Funeral Home at 2, Rev. A. E. Hendy will conduct the service, after which interment will be in Colwood Burial Park.

CLARENCE C. JOHNS

Funeral services for Clarence Charles Johns, of Cordova Bay, who passed away yesterday morning at the family residence, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 from Sands Mortuary Chapel. Rev. G. A. Reynolds will officiate, and interment will be in the family plot in Ross Bay Cemetery.

City health and school officials worked this week to combat spread of an infectious rash accompanying severe colds in the Beacon Hill school area. Similar to a mild form of scarlet fever, the illness has been contracted by five cases this week and nine in the last two weeks.

ALL FRIENDLY IN HONOLULU

Hon. F. M. MacPherson, Back From Holiday, Gives Impressions

"I was impressed most by the natural friendliness of the people. It is a wonderful thing to make tourists feel at home," said Hon. F. M. MacPherson, B. C. Minister of Public Works, who returned with Mrs. MacPherson aboard Ms. Aorangi last night from a holiday trip in Honolulu.

"From the bell boys in the hotels to the high government officials everyone seems so happy to do anything to please the visitors," Mr. MacPherson added. Mr. and Mrs. MacPherson went to Honolulu by the Empress of Japan staying six days and catching the Aorangi north.

They attended the President's birthday ball at the Royal Hawaiian Hotel. Mr. MacPherson was a guest of highway officials on an inspection of the roads on the island of Oahu.

"They have only 200 miles of road to keep up. It is putting it mildly to say I was envious when I thought of our 20,000 miles in British Columbia," he said.

The Buddhist Religion

A Buddhist Dagoba.

What was the light which came to the Buddha while he sat under the bo tree? It was, as he believed, the light of truth, and it taught him many things.

As nearly as we know, here are the things which the great thinker learned:

"All men and all women must suffer."

"Suffering is caused by wrong-doings, and by the desire to obtain things."

"The way to end sorrow is by, passing into Nirvana after death."

"To pass into Nirvana, a person must have the right faith. He must judge truly, and must always speak the truth. He must keep in mind a good way of life. He must make his living honestly. He must have a clear memory of his deeds. He must think deeply about Nirvana."

The idea of Nirvana is strange to us. It is supposed to be a state after death in which souls do not suffer any pain. Some say there is no joy in it, either, but that point is not clear. It is fancied that only a perfect soul can enter Nirvana, and that all other souls must be born over and over again until they get to be perfect.

The Buddha was 36 years old at the time he sat under the bo tree. Then, for 44 years, he preached to thousands and thousands of people who gathered in crowds to hear him. His father and his wife are said to have joined the Buddhist faith.

After the Buddha's death at a ripe old age, the religion kept on growing. Millions of people in India, Burma and Ceylon became members. In later centuries the faith spread to China; where it has more followers today than in any other country. It also reached Japan, and became important there.

Vast numbers of Buddhist temples have been built, and some which exist today are more than a thousand years old. Statues of the Buddha, large and small, are common in the temples.

Bell-shaped buildings known as "dagobas" are common on the temple grounds. They contain holy relics of the Buddhist faith.

The exact number of Buddhists in the world is not known. Probably the number is between 200,000,000 and 300,000,000.

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel"

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 12, 1938

Benefic aspects dominate today, according to astrology. Good news for the nation is forecast as memories of a great statesman are recalled.

This is an auspicious day under which to take advice or plan future policies. It is fortunate for public meetings to discuss national affairs.

Leaders in business now come under a planetary government which inspires caution mingled with courage in financial ventures. The stars promise good luck in the United States. Many fears regarding trade and commerce will not be fulfilled.

Despite predictions of feared economic and prominent statements coming months will bring surprises in the way of

Father Should Have a Voice

Should Share in Rearing Children

ONE OF THE MOST tragic figures in the world is the man who loves his children and feels his responsibility to them and then sees them being ruined by a weak and silly mother from whom he is powerless to protect them.

His torture is as great as it would be if he had to stand by and watch the sons and daughters, who were the very core of his heart, being sucked down into a maelstrom from which he could not rescue them because he was held back by some malign and invisible force which he could not resist.

Yet there are many such men, and they are a sad refutation of the charge that is so often brought against American fathers—that they are more interested in making money than they are in making their children fine men and women; that they consider that they have done their full duty to their offspring when they pay their bills and provide them with sport cars and fine clothes; that after having acted as a human cash register to their children they wash their hands of all responsibility and turn the job of rearing them over to their mothers.

Indeed, it is often said that except for purposes of respectability and legitimacy the American child might as well be fatherless, so exclusively is he dominated by his mother, and so completely is the forming of his character and habits given over to her.

It is generally assumed that this state of affairs is the result of the Tired Business Man being too tired to want to bother with Johnny and Susie when he comes home at night; and to the further widespread belief—assiduously fostered by mothers—that fathers don't understand their children as they do; that they have about the same affection for them as an alley cat has for his offspring, and that, anyway, mothers have some inspired knowledge of how to rear children that fathers lack.

This is far from the truth. Men love their children just as much as women do. They sacrifice just as much as women do for them. They understand them just as well. They would like to be pals with their children and take a part in developing them if only their wives would let them. But these wives won't. Where the children are concerned mothers are monopolists and, like the jealous Turks, they endure no rival near the throne.

When the mother is a fine, strong, wise woman, fitted for the task she has assumed, all is well. But often, so terribly often, the mother is a weak, foolish, fond woman without brains or backbone, who, in her blind infatuation for her children, can see no fault in them and who spoils and coddles them until she utterly unfits them for life. And it is this spectacle of the children who are being ruined that their father has to witness without being able to save them.

One of these broken-hearted, frustrated fathers said to me the other day: "When I see my children growing up without morals, without manners, knowing no law but their own wills, and think what failures they are bound to be in life, I feel that I am the greatest criminal on earth. But what can I do when my wife balks me at every turn and teaches them to defy my authority?"

"She indulges their every whim and when I try to control them she takes their part and calls me cruel and tyrannical. When I try to correct them she pities them until they feel they are martyrs. When I refuse them anything she gives it to them on the sly. I have no influence with them because she has taught them to have no respect for me. They haven't even any affection for me because she has made them believe that I care nothing for them; that she is the only one who loves them and wants them to be happy. When they were little I tried to discipline them and make them behave, but it always precipitated such a row between their mother and myself that I gave up trying to have any say-so in their upbringing because I saw it was the only way in which they could have a peaceful home."

"So I am helpless. I cannot take them away from the mother who worships them, for that would kill her. I cannot even send them off to school because she would follow them. I can only wind my hands in impotent anguish over the wrecking of three as fine children as ever were born."

"There are many men like me, and the reason we don't take any part in the rearing of our children is because our wives won't let us."

DOROTHY DIX.

International developments. Secrecy will shroud diplomatic activities. Young folk should find this a lucky day. Girls will have special pleasure in social contacts. It is a favorable day for wearing new clothing. Winter resorts will profit greatly, and desert colonies will flourish. Dude ranches are to have a prosperous season. Mines and mining will gain special interest this month, when rare and much sought minerals will claim attention. Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of changes or upheavals. Romance may be detrimental to business success and women may be especially susceptible. Children born on this day have the best planetary guidance. Subjects of this sign usually have great initiative and independence. They are extraordinary in intelligence and reliability. Charles Robert Darwin, scientist, was born on this day, 1809. Others who have celebrated it as a birthday include George Meredith, English novelist, 1828, and Tadeusz Kosciuszko, Polish patriot, 1746.

Vancouver Man Wins $100,500

Name of Lucky Citizen in Australian Golden Casket Lottery Not Disclosed

VANCOUVER (CP)—A man identified only as Mr. "C. A." of Vancouver has been announced as winner of the £25,000 ($100,500) first prize money in the current Golden Casket Lottery of Australia.

Sydney authorities did not reveal the full name of the winner, it was learned here Thursday.

The Vancouver Sun described "C. A." as a man "in reduced circumstances" who has been seriously ill recently and has been unemployed for three months.

The paper said this was the first time a Canadian or a local man has won first prize in this lottery.

There are subscribers to the lottery in many parts of the world.

TERROR WAVE IN SHANGHAI

Heads of Men Found in Streets as Pro-Japanese Band Active

SHANGHAI (CP-Havas)—A fourth decapitated head was found today on a French Concession street as a pro-Japanese counter-terrorist band continued its grisly work despite redoubled police vigilance.

Police believe the group has been formed to counter recent attacks on newspapers and individuals suspected of trafficking with the Japanese.

Four bodiless heads have been found on the streets during the last few days.

A bomb was thrown today at the offices of the American-owned Shanghai Evening Post. French police arrested two Chinese fleeing from the scene. Although admitting they had acted on the orders of a terrorist organization, the prisoners were not clear as to its aims.

The French authorities offered a reward of $1,000 for information leading to the arrest of other members of the bands.

Bats have no strange sense organ to warn them of obstacles they cannot see, so scientists have proved by stretching fine wires over a water tank at night.

Newspaper ads are like that. You can rush them into print anywhere, anytime. You can use them in specific communities to bolster up weak markets, or meet local situations, economically. You can tie them in at the last moment, even, with new promotion plans and sales campaigns. Right up to press-time, almost, you can change or replace (and even cancel) them.

No other medium in the whole advertising world is so flexible, so adaptable to the needs of everybody's business as the newspaper. That's why the big leaders in advertising tip you off—by their own "majoring" in this medium—to newspaper advertising as the sturdy backbone for your own campaign.

OPPOSED TO RADIO FEES

B. A. Trestrail Says Increase Detrimental to Industry

Asserting that it would be detrimental to the radio industry, B. A. Trestrail, vice-president of the Canadian Radio Corporation of Canada, Toronto, who reached Victoria last night by the Aorangi from Honolulu, expressed his disapproval of the proposal to increase radio license fees in Canada.

The proposed increase of the license fee from $2 to $2.50 on each set, he said, would halt to a large extent the sale of additional sets in homes where one set already existed, sales which were greatly needed by the radio industry in Canada.

The radio manufacturer expressed the hope that the government would not make the increase operative until the whole question had been thoroughly canvassed.

Continued government control of radio broadcasting would ultimately tend to retard development of the industry through lack of facilities for research with the limited amount of money available for the purpose, was the opinion expressed by Mr. Trestrail.

It must be realized, he said, that the government, through the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, was doing valuable work by providing entertainment to sparsely settled communities which could not otherwise be served.

Mr. Trestrail did not, however, believe the government should continue to control the industry for an indefinite period to the exclusion of private capital that might take advantage of scientific developments. He referred more particularly to television.

While the Aorangi was in port Mr. Trestrail talked radio development with Walter J. Fletcher, of J. H. Fletcher and Son.

CALIFORNIA GALE SETS 50-YEAR LENGTH RECORD

Falling trees, collapsing buildings and an ocean drowning accounted for five of the eight deaths during Wednesday's high winds. Thursday, the body of Mary Hays was found beneath her wind-levelled chicken house near Bakersfield. At Modesto, Scotty McRae, 44, became the seventh known victim when he drowned in the Tuolumne River after his rowboat capsized.

The eighth death attributed to the storm was that of Ralph H. Gleason, 35, telephone company lineman. He died Thursday of exhaustion, brought on by his efforts to repair telephone lines torn down by the wind in the mountains near Grass Valley.

Professor Satisfied Wanderlust By Taking "Tramps" On Unbeaten Track

College professors, like most other people, get the wanderlust, but when they do, they do things differently—taking to the unbeaten track.

So says Prof. Bristow Adams of the New York State College of Agriculture, Cornell University, who reached Victoria by the liner Aorangi last night after girdling the globe south of the equator.

He is a close friend of Prof. Bernard Recknagel, who has just been appointed to the University of British Columbia, having been with him at Cornell.

"I took six months leave and started traveling to learn a few things," said Prof. Adams in an interview aboard the Aorangi.

"My idea was to keep of the beaten track and to keep south of the equator."

Tramp steamers were used by the professor wherever possible in visiting 15 countries.

Here is his itinerary: British steamer Chinese Prince, New York to Panama; Dutch steamer Baarn to Guayaquil, Ecuador; Callao, Peru; Autofagasta, and Valparaiso, Chile; Japanese steamer Arizona Maru to Buenos Aires, Argentina; Montevideo, Uruguay; Santos, Rio de Janeiro, Brazil; Capetown, South Africa; Dutch steamer Bontekoe, Durban, Natal to Zanzibar; Mombasa, East Africa to Singapore, Straits Settlements; Dutch steamer Ten Noort to Batavia; Dutch steamer Patris to Sourabaya; Dutch steamer Melchior to Bali; Dutch steamer Swartenhondt to New Guinea and New Zealand; British Ms. Aorangi from Auckland via Hawaii to Victoria.

FORMER NEWSPAPERMAN

Prof. Adams is a former newspaperman who worked as a reporter on the Washington, D.C., Star and Post; the San Francisco Chronicle, and with George D. Mitchell and Edwin S. Potter, founded the magazine Pathfinder at Washington as far back as 1894.

Not only is he a writer, but an artist as well. He conceived the novel idea of sketching and tinting the "funnels" of each vessel on which he traveled.

"I caught a cold in doing the Aorangi's funnels from the bridge deck," he commented.

"When I set out from New York my friends urged me to keep a complete record of my travels and, to make sure, presented me with a loose-leaf portfolio inscribed 'South of the Equator.'"

"Just to prove that I can keep a promise," said the professor, "I have written 250,000 words. No, it is not my intention to write a book. It is just a record of a glorious tour."
